Secretary Acheson Arrives After Some Delay By Storms

By KINGSBURY SMITH
(European General Manager, I. N. S.)

BRUSSELS, Dec. 18.—Foreign ministers and defense chiefs of the North Atlantic Pact nations opened their historic Brussels conference today to approve creation of a combined air, land and sea European armed force under the supreme command of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Approval of the major part of a master plan for the unified defense force was reported reached almost immediately despite a slight delay in the arrival of U. S. Secretary of State Acheson, whose plane made an unscheduled stopover in Paris due to bad weather. Acheson reached the conference scene a little more than two hours after the sessions began.

Agreement on Eisenhower?

One delegate leaving the conference when it recessed at 1:30 p.m. Brussels time (7:30 a.m. EST) told International News Service that agreement already had been reached on making Gen. Eisenhower commander of the North Atlantic force.

He added that the defense chiefs also had approved "in principle" the use of German troops in the new North Atlantic army but that the details on this controversial question would not be announced at this conference.

Observers saw this as a step designed to avoid giving the Russians an further provocation for their opposition to German rearmament. In addition it was aimed at soft-

Arena On Grove Street Is Completely Gutted By Fire

—New Castle News Photos

Fire, which was discovered about 12:30 o'clock this morning, completely destroyed The Arena, local roller skating rink and sports center at 316-320 Grove street, with a loss estimated at near $90,000, and believed covered by insurance, according to a statement made to Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink by Stanley M. Shaw, owner and manager, this morning.

The fire is believed to have been caused by a defective stoker on the furnace, according to the fire chief.

Fire Spreads Quickly

The fire broke out about half an hour after roller skating patrons had left the structure and was discovered by neighbors residing nearby. Investigating a strong odor of smoke, they went to the place and found it afire and summoned firemen. When they arrived in response to the first alarm the fire was begining to burn briskly, being through the roof in the rear, and a second alarm was sounded from box 43, bringing additional equipment to the scene.

Doomed From Start

The structure was doomed from the start, however, bursting into a seething mass of flames which raged through the interior, driv-

China Refuses To Accept Move For Cease-Fire

Only Acceptance Would Be On Terms Set By Red China

(BULLETIN)

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 18.—(INS)—The three-man U. N. truce committee appealed to the U. N. today to give Communist China additional time to reply further to the Korean cease-fire proposal. The proposal was in effect rejected Saturday by Peiping spokesman Wu Hsiu-Chuan.

LAKE SUCCESS, N. Y., Dec. 18.—Assembly President Nasrollah Entezam will present an interim report today to the 60-member U. S. Political committee on Communist China's refusal to accept a cease-fire in Korea except on its own terms.

The committee meets today to to debate disposition of charges that the U. S. committed aggression in ordering its seventh fleet to protect Formosa against invasion.

Entezam's report was drafted jointly with the help of Sir Benegal Rau of India and Foreign Minister Lester B. Pearson of Canada, the truce group delegated by the assembly last week to arrange a cease-fire with Red China and Gen. Douglas MacArthur's unified command.

Claim Move Is "Trap"

On Saturday afternoon, Entezam conferred with Peiping spokesman Gen. Wu Hsiu-Chuan after the latter disclosed in a news conference that his government considers the cease-fire move "a trap to tie China's and North Korea's hands".

Wu declared that he and his eight aides will return to China tomorrow on the grounds that U. N. blocked the accomplishment of

Steel And Meat Industry Leaders Discuss Controls

By PHILLIPS P. PECK
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Steel and meat industry leaders meet with stabilization officials today in anticipation of controls designed to couple a level economy with vastly expanded military production.

It is expected that materials price controls will come before any attempt is made to place rigid limitations on foods.

Federal price administrator Michael DiSalle meets today with officials of the American Iron and Steel Institute tomorrow with the Institute of Scrap Iron and Steel and Wednesday with waste material dealers.

The parleys will be aimed at implementing President Truman's announcement that "a series of control orders" will be issued on critical materials that play a major role in defense and the cost of living.

Rollback Auto Prices

The economic stabilization agency's first big move against sky-rocketing prices went into operation today, a rollback on new passenger car prices to Dec. 1 levels. They are frozen at that point until March 1.

Steel, copper, nickel, tin, aluminum, zinc, lead and rubber are likely to be the next items put on the controlled list since they bulk large in the rearmament drive.

Fastest Plane Reported In Korea Action

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(INS)—The F-86 Saberjet, reported in action in Korea for the first time today, is officially the world's fastest airplane and probably the world's fastest operational fighter.

The sleek, sweptback F-86 holds the world's official speed record, 670.981 mph, set in level runs at Muroc, Calif., in September, 1948.

The air force has faster planes, the X-2 and the X-3 and other experimental aircraft, mostly rocket powered, but these to date have made no assaults on the speed record, and are not armed or intended for combat.

The air force also hints that some later jet fighters, and even later versions of the Saberjet, can fly faster than the early model that set the speed record. But

SEOUL, Dec. 19—(Tuesday)—United Nations troops beat off Chinese Red thrusts against the narrow Hungnam beachhead on Korea's northeast coast Monday and tightened their defenses above Seoul in defenses above Seoul in anticipation of an enemy assault.

Overhead, waves of planes maintained a steady battering of Communist forces and their transport network as America's F-86 Saberjet, the world's fastest known plane, joined the air offensive.

Four of these ultramodern fighters, it was disclosed, made their combat debut Sunday when they attacked and routed four Russian-made MIG-15 jets over northwest Korea. One of the Red 650-mile-per-hour planes was shot down in flames and the other three fled back to Manchuria. The Saberjets emerged unscathed.

'Last Man' Defense

South Korean President Syngman Rhee promised a "last man" defense of Seoul and declared his government has not ordered any civilian evacuation of the menaced capital.

A Republic of Korea (ROK) army spokesman followed up this statement with an assertion shortly before midnight Monday (10 a. m., EST) that no Chinese Red troops are known as yet to be south of the 38th parallel.

He declared that the Communist units now thrusting along and somewhat below the parallel are North Korean troops, of which eight to 12 divisions have been reconstituted, according to United Nations headquarters.

The ROK army official and other military sources in Seoul said the

PA NEWC OBSERVES

Young people with suitcases well marked with stickers arriving in the city over the week end, indicated that the annual Christmas vacations in some colleges have already started. Quite a large group of students arrived in the city late Saturday and early Sunday, to spend the holiday period at home.

Lights will blaze forth from most of the churches of the city throughout this week as Christmas programs are presented and various social gatherings take place in the churches marking the season. Many programs were presented locally on Sunday, which will be conducted in different nights this week.

Postal men unloading downtown mailboxes find almost as many Christmas cards posted in the boxes as in the Post Office these days if their loads are any criterion. The boxes at almost each pickup yield hundreds of cards and letters.

A Rose Point reader of the Pa Newc column writes to say that he was glad to hear the intersection of old Route 422 and the new road at the Harbor is lighter at night due to the erection of business places there, but he points out that the intersection of the old and new roads at Rose Point is serious at night. The road at that point is hazardous, he points out. The detour signs have been so placed that at night, they are invisible to drivers, he says. The situation, according to the informant is more dangerous than prior to the construction of the new road.

Some Changes In Draft Program Are Forecast

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—Induction of some war veterans and men with dependents before the end of 1951 was seen possible today by congressional military leaders.

Congressional spokesmen who are close to the defense picture said this would depend a great deal on whether (1) the armed forces are increased beyond 3,500,000 men and (2) the international situation grows more grave.

Probable Order Of Call

If these two categories of exempted men are called up, those affected, at least at first, will probably be single men with dependent parents, childless married men, and war veterans who served a short period and did not go overseas.

Men with dependents can be inducted upon issuance of a presidential order if they are aged 19 through 25. Congress has already enacted into law standby legislation providing benefits to dependents of men called into service.

World War II veterans generally are exempted and can not be inducted without congress' assent.

Congress May Speed Up, To End Session Friday

Huge Amount Of Business Must Be Rushed In Senate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(INS)—The senate starts a last-minute pre-Christmas rush today to dispose of nearly 35 billion dollars worth of business this week and enable the 81st congress to quit for good on Friday.

The house is in good shape for a sine die adjournment before Chrismas. It has passed the major war preparedness measures President Truman asked of the lame duck session.

The senate, lagging behind, had expected to plug along through the holiday season.

But a burst of speed charted by senate Democratic leaders may give the lawmakers a week's holiday before the 82nd congress takes over after New Year's Day.

Try To Clear Decks

A high senate source, in disclosing the surprise speed-up, said: "We are going to try to clear the decks so we can quit Friday night. It may take a couple of night sessions to do it. We will know by Wednesday if we can succeed."

A sine die adjournment by Friday will require swift action on a $3,217,000,000 tax-increase bill, an $18,000,000,000 appropriations measure for the preparedness pro-

Find Body Of Drowned Man

Body Of Jack Fray Recovered Saturday

Recovery of the body of Jack J. Fray, aged 32 years, of 300 Foch street, Ellwood City, who drowned early Wednesday morning in Connoquenessing creek only a short distance from his home, was effected Saturday afternoon.

Members of the Ellwood City Volunteer Fire department rescue squad, which had dragged the stream for three days following his disappearance, had given up the search Saturday. They had worked under extreme difficulties and danger because of the cold and swift current and had placed a net across the stream some distance below in the hope the body would come to the surface and lodge there.

Mr Fray's body was found at 2:20 p.m. Saturday by John Sutkowski, of 15th street, Ellwood City, who with his brother Bob Sutkowski, and Carl Fray, of 604 Franklin stret, brother of the drowned man, were walking along the stream bank trying to locate the body. It was submerged in the water near the shore several hundred yards below where he had entered the stream above Ewing Park.

Coroner Charles E. Allen, who investigated the circumstances, found that Mr. Fray had been under the care of a physician for an extreme nervous condition and was on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

The body was removed to the Patton funeral home in Ellwood City, where friends will be received this evening from 8 to 10 p.m.

Mr. Fray was a son of Mrs. Mary Kristynski Fray and the late Martin Fray. He was graduated from Lincoln high school in Ellwood City and Alliance college at Cambridge Springs. He was a member of St. Agatha's church in Ellwood City, the Holy Name society and Polish National Alliance.

ing the firemen to the outside. The fire had virtually burned itself out by eight o'clock this morning but water was still being poured into the smouldering interior to prevent danger to adjoining properties.

There was no wind blowing, which averted danger to the property of the Lockley Machine company, immediately adjoining The Arena to the west, and to the storage sheds of the Citizens Lumber company in the rear.

Top of Wall Falls Over

During the height of the blaze the top of the front wall fell over into the street, but firemen had anticipated this and there was no one underneath when it let go, although Assistant Chief Norman McFarland and Fireman Frank H. Robinson had just left the spot.

The destruction of the building will leave the city without a sports arena of any size and will be a serious blow to promoters of boxing, wrestling and basketball.

Firemen fought the blaze under difficulties, temperatures only a few degrees above zero being experienced, causing hardship on the men as they poured water onto the fire.

pedaling any political difficulties between France—which reluctantly accepts the idea of German participation—and the West German government.

The Atlantic Pact foreign ministers spent the morning approving article by article the report by the military committee and the deputies council which outlines the master defense plan.

Secretary Acheson, who arrived at the snow-covered Brussels airport at 12:20 p.m. Brussels time (6:20 a.m. EST), expressed his determination to "find a solution to the problem of quickly establishing an effective (European) defense force."

Acteson said that the American people are hoping "very much" that their European Allies will join them in making a greater effort to establish a unified defense.

The tall, graying diplomat went from the airport by car to Brussels' heavily-guarded Palais Provencial where the opening session of the historic North Atlantic pact conference was already underway.

their mission — pressing charges that the U. S. committed aggression in ordering its seventh fleet to protect Formosa against invasion from the mainland.

According to present plans, the political committee may give Wu another opportunity to make a statement on Formosa before his departure tomorrow. Rau conferred with him yesterday in an effort to induce him to remain at U. N.

May Go To Peiping

The Wu decision to leave, however, caused Entezam to weigh the idea of flying to Peiping for direct negotiations on the cease-fire with Red China leader Mao Tse-Tung. Such a step probably would require the committee's endorsement, since a recess into January is necessary in that case.

Wu complained to U. N. privately last Saturday that he has in effect cooled his heels for twenty days without being given a hearing. He insisted that he has no authority from the Peiping government to talk peace negotiations or a cease-fire in Korea.

Entezam's interim report will include the views given on the cease-fire by Gen. Douglas MacArthur's unified command. The committee received an exhaustive fill-in on this Friday from U. S. Reputy Representative Ernest A. Gross, spokesman at U. N. for the unified command.

They are exempted if they served at least 90 days between Dec. 7, 1941 and Sept. 2, 1945 or if they served at least one year during a period when active hostilities were not in progress.

In Second Category

In addition, men in the second category who served 90 days to 12 months are deferred if they join an active reserve force. However, the active reserve is subject to being called up at any time, but not through selective service.

House Armed Services Committee Chairman Vinson (D) Ga., meanwhile, declared that universal military training is "unfeasible" until the present world crisis is ended. He added, however, that UMT will come under consideration by his group when it holds manpower hearings in January.

Increase To 3,500,000

President Truman has announced that the armed forces will be increased to 3,500,000 men within a few months and there is talk of a further boost later to 4,000,000 or more. There are now about 2.5 million military personnel.

Informed spokesmen feel, however, that with an increase in the armed forces beyond 3,000,000, it will become increasingly difficult to obtain sufficient men without broadening the draft law to take in categories now exempt.

Vinson has announced he will introduce as soon as the 82nd congress convenes Jan. 3 new draft legislation embodying defense department recommendations. He predicted house passage in January.

Likely Requests

It is believed the department will request: (1) the induction of 18-year-olds, to which congress will probably not agree barring a sudden worsening of the international situation (2) extension of service from 21 to 24 months, (3) possible extension of the draft age to include men aged 26 through 29, and (4) fewer educational deferments.

Defense and draft officials doubt whether sufficient men can be obtained in this manner if 18-year-olds are exempted.

As a result, some men with dependents and some war veterans may have to be called up.

FASTEST PLANE REPORTED IN KOREA

until another record is set, the F-86 is the world's fastest airplane offiically.

The Saberjet set the speed record with a full operational load. It carries six 50-caliber machine guns and can carry 16 five-inch rockets. The wings are swept back at an angle of 35 degrees.

The F-86 is built by North American Aircraft Corp., and is powered by a General Electric jet engine developing 5200 pounds of trust.

SUBWAY TRAIN STARTS WITH DOORS OPEN

credited with averting a possible major disaster.

Two of the injured declined medical attention.

For a few moments, there was bedlam on the crowded platform—massed with people on their way to work.

When the train started up with its door open, passengers were still cramming onto the train in one of New York's most familiar rushhour sights.

As the train lurched forward, the men and women who had managed to squeeze themselves inside, but still were right by the doors, were thrown back out on the platform. They in turn knocked others—still trying to board the train—off their feet.

Emergency calls quickly brought physicians, ambulances and police to the scene and order was restored without any major panic.

The train completed its run before the motorman was questioned. Police said he would not be held.

CASE CLOSED

PORTLAND, Ore.—Portland police arrested Dean C. Moyer, 20, on an auto charge because: 1. He stalled the motor of the car he was driving downtown and could not restart it. 2. He could not find the headlight switch for police. 3. He could not recite the car's license number. 4. He admitted he did not know how he obtained the car. Police thought the fifth reason was the clincher. The real owner reported the car stolen after Moyer was in jail.

Solemn Celebrations Of Christmas Season Asked By Governor

HARRISBURG, Dec. 18.—(INS)—The yuletide observance opened at the state capitol today with Gov. James H. Duff calling for "solemn celebrations" of the season honoring the prince of peace.

A 40-foot high Christmas tree blazened with colored lights and glittering trimmings when Mrs. Duff threw the switch.

The governor referred to the world-wide aggression of Red Russia and reminded his listeners that America faces a critical period.

He suggested that the season's celebration be tempered with knowledge of the sacrifices being made in the name of humanity by American soldiers half-way cross the world in Korea.

The rotunda was jammed with capitol employes, visitors, state officials and members of the governor's cabinet. The choirs of two Harrisburg high schools sang Christmas music.

Casa Blanca, San Juan, Puerto Rico, is the oldest inhabited American residence. It was built by Spaniards in 1521.

SELF-HELP WAS THE KEY

Termination of Marshall Plan aid to Great Britain, two-and-a half years after it started, is encouraging evidence that accomplishments can be achieved in the international field if both parties sincerely try.

The effort to bring about British recovery cost the American taxpayers $2,864,000,000. It cost the British people a great deal of belt-tightening, a concentration on exports and the devaluation of the British pound. That the British now can get along without this aid reflects credit on both countries.

But it would be dishonest to say there haven't been differences of opinion. Many Americans have thought the British, while working well for themselves, dragged their feet on essential moves toward European economic unity and are still slow in recognizing that the Communist peril requires greater emphasis on British rearmament.

Any contributions this country makes toward British armament, or European rearmament, for that matter, ought to be made with this in mind. There must be insistence that Europeans work to the utmost to arm themselves.

There is an obvious lesson in this department. All Marshall Plan nations must put forth the same efforts and self-sacrifice, on both military and economic matters, that the British showed in improving their economic conditions, if they expect any further help from this country.

THOSE MONGOL HORSEMEN

Dispatches from Tokyo, disclosing the arrival of two Chinese cavalary divisions on the front in Korea, describe these troops at some length and with considerable respect.

These units are thought to be Mongolian. They are 4,000 to 7,000 men each. They are further described thusly:

"Lightly armed, they are extremely mobile and capable of traversing the roughest terrain. Their Mongol ponies are accustomed to the extreme low temperatures and biting winds of the Mongolian plateau. They have extraordinary endurance and can operate on the barest minimum of food and water."

There is more. It is hardly necessary to go into detail about the camel trains that provide additional supplies when needed. To sum it up, these are descendants of the hard-bitten hordes that made Genghis Khan the scourge of Asia centuries ago. Their ancestors made conquering forays with bows and arrows, whereas they use rifles. Otherwise there is little to choose between them.

No doubt they are formidable foes. Yet they do not sound much more fearsome than the plains Indians who fought Americans in the last century. Their weapons may be better. They are probably better disciplined. But it is to be doubted that they are braver or more enduring than the wild warriors of the American west.

Those warriors were eventually beaten by the U. S. Cavalry, which had superior equipment and superior skill—and was as tough as they were. The point seems worth remembering just now.

WHERE SHALL WE SHIP THE REMAINS?

Sometimes a touch of humor will bring home a serious truth.

That is true of a hotel sign in Salisbury, Maryland, which says, "If you must smoke in bed while here, please notify the office so we will know where to ship your remains. Business is good here, but we do not have guests to burn."

Commenting on this, the Dillon, South Carolina, Herald, observes, "When a guest is tempted to light a cigarette in bed he should think of the Atlanta Hotel holocaust two years ago when more than a hundred guests were burned to death."

It is an ironical fact that smoking in bed is a major cause of death by fire—to say nothing of the great property loss that also results from it—and that it is also one of the least excusable and unintelligent things we can do. The smoker dozes off, the lighted cigarette drops oneo flammable sheets and blankets—and the next step is the morgue.

Many of the most destructive fires stem from simple causes. A minimum of thought will prevent them, and a minimum of care will banish the danger. The main goal of fire prevention lies in public education—for it is the human factor that keeps our fire waste as such terrible levels.

The new king of Nepal is only three years old. Must have a tough time trying to fill the old monarch's shoes.

Income of the average Turk is $150, a report shows. He must be a magician—to maintain a harem on that!

Such is fame!—The Swiss, who rank among the top as fine watchmakers, are better known for their brand of cheese.

December means "ten" which may explain why this is the month when everybody's picking the ten best this and that.

A Chicago zoo offers a giraffe for sale at a bargain—$4,500. Four thousand for the neck, no doubt, and $500 for the rest of it.

Language used by North Korea's Red premier in a radio broadcast was that of Red China! This puts him in a class by himself—a stooge's stooge!

Most houses, according to an architect, haven't enough closet space. He can say that again—especially now that it's Christmas-gift hiding time.

Curious Soviet Diplomacy Switch

Another of those curious switches in Soviet diplomacy so characteristic of the Kremlin is reported from Moscow and with it comes increasing evidence of Russian concern over Western defense plans.

For reasons best known to itself, the Soviet government is understood to have called the attention of France to the existing treaty of friendship and alliance between the two countries.

Paris diplomatic circles say the Russian move springs directly from intention of the Western powers to bring about partial rearmament of Germany and to include German units in the joint Western European army. This will be projected definitely at Brussels next week when the North Atlantic Pact defense ministers meet.

"Polite" Warning

In diplomatic parlance, "calling attention" is the politest possible term for a warning.

The Russian move is interesting and perhaps of grave importance.

There are two clauses in the Franco-Russian pact which have a direct bearing on the situation.

Article III contains a mutual pledge to prevent Germany from ever again becoming an armed menace to peace.

Article V provides that neither France nor Russia shall enter into any coalition of powers directed against either nation.

In the present state of world affairs, it can hardly be hoped that the Soviet approach, ostensibly made in the interest of peace, can lead to any satisfactory conclusion.

At best, it apparently can only produce another diplomatic chicken-egg controversy calculated to fray even further the jangled nerves of the European continent.

Two Obvious Answers

Should Russia charge the French Republic with one-sided abrogation of the treaty, France has two obvious answers:

1. Germany's Western zones of occupation are to be armed in contribution to Western European defense because Russia has done the same on a far larger scale in the East.

2. Russia already has created her own coalition of Powers in the satellite nations which wholly or singly represent a constant and ineradicable threat to the peace not only of France but to all the world.

Along with these factors is the angle that the Franco-Soviet treaty, like so many other war and post-war agreements signed in Europe, has been rendered something of a dead letter by lack of Soviet cooperation in world affairs and subsequent peace pledges inherent in the charter of the United Nations.

Referred to Occasionally

French Communists have referred to it occasionally in attacking alleged Western imperialism and preparations for war but to the present the issue has not emerged beyond the soap-box stage.

It is unfortunately likely, however, that Russia's action will provide new impetus to the oratory of French Communism, which has been to some extent silenced of late by blatant Red aggression in Korea.

In addition, the Soviets are said to have proposed some new approach for improvement of trade relations between East and West Europe, a tempting bait for all European countries whose war-damaged economies have been further unbalanced by the cleavages that have torn the world.

Maintain Trade Relations

Despite diplomatic strains, most West European countries still maintain trade relations with Russia. The Soviets are good customers and exporters of many materials valuable to the West and more than one European government has had to walk the tightrope in reconciling economic expediency with anti-Communist diplomacy.

As usual, the Soviets have been expert in their timing. The fate of Europe, or at least its immediate future, hinges upon the Brussels meeting of next week and it is a foregone conclusion that Communism will do all in its power to sabotage its undertakings.

The present Russian move may serve to unsettle further an already divided French opinion on German rearmament. Even if it does no more than that, the Soviets will have achieved one more step toward their ultimate goal of European instability.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

CONSISTENCY NEEDED IN DISCIPLINE

Some years ago I served for several years with the U. S. Office of Education conducting public demonstration forums in various areas of the U.S. While the main program dealt with adults, I also carried it to many schools and led forums with children in the high school and grades.

Often I discussed with elementary school children their problems of getting along with their brothers and sisters and playmates, and the children soon asked many serious questions. Following such a forum with a fourth grade group in Philadelphia, a little girl on leaving the room quietly said to me: "Mr., please tell me what to do. I love both my father and mother and would like to obey both of them but I just don't know how to do it."

Calm And Lovely

I was puzzled at first for I did not want to criticise her parents. Finally, I said: "Some time when you are with both your parents and they seem to be very calm and lovely, tell them you are troubled and explain why. Then in your lovliest way tell them they could make you so much happier if they would talk together when you are not present over what they want you to do, so they might agree when you are present."

While disagreement between parents over the child is not always so extreme as the foregoing, any of it can be harmful to the child.

An ex-teacher, writes of three children—11, 4 and 1½ years of age, that she has difficulty at finding ways to reduce or prevent fear, rage and jealously. Says she: "I try to be patient, calm and understanding with each but my husband claims I "mollycoddle" them or make excuses for their shortcomings. He is an army officer with several subordinates and clerks and is inclined to give orders which are carried out immediately and directly. He wants immediate obedience and precision habits from the three boys at all times!"

Well Mannered

"Everyone of our friends says our boys are well mannered and self-controlled. Yet my husband is not satisfied. He continually finds fault with them and in their presence tells them, "how your mommy spoils you."

Clearly this father is unwise and rude when he tells his children how their mother spoils them and it is easy to see that he carries over his army ways of discipline to his family. And just because he does, his wife grows more lenient with the children and protective of them, and her ways in turn cause the father to be more severe.

As I wrote this mother, she could subtly win her husband to be less severe with the children if she were to stiffen up herself in their discipline and would less often make excuses for them. Then in her lovely way she might be able at some companionable moment with her husband to prevail on him to resolve not to criticise her in the presence of the children.

I also tried to show this mother how she should compliment the father when he does show patience and consideration towards the children, how to do her utmost in persuasive ways to win him to spend more time at fun with them and going places with them, especially the eldest. I enclosed my bulletin, "Fathers Are Parents, Too" (which may be had by anybody else in a stamped envelope sent me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.) But I warned her not to tell or ask her husband to read it.

Folks Of Fame

Joseph F. Smith was born Dec. 23, 1805, at Sharon, Vt. His parents moved to Palmyra, N. Y., and on a hill near that city he claimed to have unearthed, in 1827, in answer to a vision, the golden plates of the book of the religion he founded. With the aid of optical instruments found with the plates he was able to translate the characters they contained, and in 1830 the first edition of the book of his church was printed. He reported revelations from time to time on the details of the church's organization and its laws. He directed its affairs during its many trials and removals, until he was killed by a mob in Carthage, Ill., June 27, 1844.

Cesare Borgia was born in Rome in 1476. His father—a cardinal—was elevated to the papacy and made him a cardinal, but he was later released from ecclesiastical obligations. In 1497 his brother was murdered and the deed was attributed to him. Later he was accused of a second murder—this time his sister's husband. He was cruel, unscrupulous, and his good fortune made him the terror of his time. Many murders were instigated by him, but at last his dominion began to fall to pieces and in spite of his intrigues to save himself, he was arrested, deprived of all his castles and departed for Naples. He was arrested there, however, and sent to Spain, where he was prisoner for two years. He escaped, took service under his brother-in-law and was killed while besieging a castle March 12, 1507.

Bible Thought

And this is the condemnation, that light is come into the world, and men loved darkness rather than light, because their deeds were evil. For everyone that doeth evil hateth the light, neither cometh to the light lest his deeds should be reproved. But he that doeth truth cometh to the light, that his deeds may be made manifest, that they are wrought in God. —John 3:, 19, 20, 21.

From Me To You

From coast to coast . . . the fame and knowledge of this community has spread throughout the years . . . New Castle, Pennsylvania . . . former residents tell their neighbors in new localities about this little town and the people which make it up . . . In California they have a big picnic each summer where hundreds of former residents get together and talk over old times . . . In Florida each winter the same holds true.

Now we would like to call attention to the meeting to be held in Chicago, December 28th . . . by the New Castle Club . . . it will be a dinner meeting and place of entertainment will be Room 821 of the Union League Club, 65 West Jackson Boulevard . . . an informal get-to-gether will be starting at six-fifteen with the big meal to be served at seven . . . Total expenses will be five dollars per person . . . Sam H. McGoun Jr. is chairman of the event this year and sends an invitation to anyone to attend who will be visiting or living in Chicago on the 28th . . . In the letter of invitation is this paragraph . . . "This is the one chance each year that former New Castle people have the opportunity of renewing friendships and in discussing matters important concerning our native community".

friendships and in discussing matters important concerning our native community".

It's nice to renew friendship . . . and friendship started in this community seems to last for years and years . . . Often wonder what would happen to the rest of the states if all the former New Castle residents would suddenly pick-up and come back home . . . of course that would cause some concern here too . . . One local wag said . . . yea, it sure would cause some concern as there are some former residents who couldn't visit back here without first getting an OK from next door to the court house resident.

Greetings this Christmas time to all people who are away from New Castle . . . and especially those in overseas posts . . . you particularly are the ones we want to see walking down our streets again.

STALACTITE AND STALAGMITE

Inside Washington

MARCH OF EVENTS

(Special to Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—United States officials frankly are worried by a revival among war-weary Europeans for appeasement with the Communists in the Far East. The United States is convinced that any appeasement today would only bring invasion of Europe by Red armies just so much the sooner.

With the Chinese Communist forces now pouring into Korea capable of being the spark to set off World War III, the Europeans are represented as wanting the United Nations to make a deal with Red China on Formosa, Korea and membership in the UN.

The United States, on the other hand, does not believe that any "deal" with Red China will hold water until the Reds are driven out of Korea and back to China.

The United States also believes that a UN deal with the Reds would not be worth the paper on which it is written and in the long run would make the UN as weak as the late League of Nations.

Draft Rejections—Army officials say that some of the public criticism of the high rate of draft rejections fails to take into account the selective system under which the draft is conducted.

For instance, 15 per cent of prospective draftees are rejected for failure to pass an intelligence test. This test measures "ability to learn" and generally speaking more education does not improve the grade.

Moreover, for reasons of selection, the test is deliberately designed with the idea that 12 per cent of the people could not pass it. If the population became more intelligent, requirements would be raised until about 12 per cent were still excluded.

There also are many cases where a man would be entirely acceptable if he underwent an expensive operation or treatment, but the Army does not see why it should undertake this expense and delay when fit draftees are available.

New Rent Fight—One of the first controversial issues to face the 82nd Congress when it meets in January probably will be a renewal of the fight over extending federal rent controls.

With a temporary extension of 60 days to keep the present rent law in force until about March 1, the fight in the new Congress will be over the enactment of a long-range rent control law.

Unless the international situation improves, the chances for a new, one-year law are fair. Of course, if the United States becomes involved in an outright war in a few months, passage of a rent law is believed certain.

However, any new type law will differ from the present act in many respects. Profiting by mistakes found in the present rent law, the legislators may pass a more fluid type of legislation.

New Priorities—Civilian aviation is assured of sufficient new transports and spare parts under a new priority system to keep commercial airlines in operation despite military demands on the industry.

Under the new procedure, the Civil Aeronautics Board and Civil Aeronautics Administration act as "claimant agencies" before the National Production Administration act as "claimant agencies" before the National Production Administration to obtain "directives" for planes and spare parts.

The directives will require manufacturer to sandwich in the transports on the assembly lines between military planes and to put out spare parts as needed.

The CAA will handle requests from scheduled and non-scheduled carriers for "whole" transports while the CAB will expedite orders for spare parts and for smaller planes for the rest of the aviation industry.

One Man's Opinion

By Walter Kiernan

Aggression starts when a fellow with a single railroad ticket takes the opposite seat to put his feet on.

This definition may help the UN which never quite seems to know what is rightful property and what is aggressed.

It may also help individuals who aggress while they wonder why nations do.

But it's always interesting to see a fellow put his bag on the seat beside him, his feet on the seat opposite and settle down to read the latest reports on those muscling Muscovites.

And this wage-price control period is a good time to watch the domestic chiselers develop into full-blown aggressors.

There is a connection you know . . . an aggressor is a chiseler magnified a thousand times.

But he is always "the other guy."

THOUGHTLESS TRICK

"It was a selfish trick," they say,
Though just a simple act I thought it.
Upon a rack the other day
I saw a tie I liked and bought it.

I'm told I've done such things before.
Last year I failed to think about them
And bought pajamas. One week more
I could have got along without them.

"You're very difficult," they say,
"Especially in late December,
That it will soon be Christmas Day
From year to year you don't remember."

Once more they turn on me in hate.
I want their love and long have sought it.
But once again I failed to wait.
I saw a tie I liked and bought it.

Restraint Is Needed

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.

In the war we are fighting in Korea today and the immensely vaster and more terrible one with which we are threatened, a very considerable factor apparently has not been noticed by the public nor given the attention it deserves by either our civilian or military leaders.

—o—

This is the exceedingly grave matter of censorship in the interests of national security. In no other war in our times has this been so conspicuously absent. In no other period has it seemed so vitally needed. This is not the fault of the newspapers or the war correspondents. Actually, the only request for censorship has come from the reporters in the field and the only unfavorable comment on its lack has been made by one or two first-class journalistic military analysts. These are men who yield to no one in their devotion to the freedom of the press or in their abhorrence of unnecessary censorship. Nevertheless, they are shocked at the unbridled license that so widely prevails here and abroad. They feel deeply that some kind of restraint is essential, ashamed it does not exist.

—o—

Neither the Russian nor the Chinese Communists seem to need a spy system here. All they need is to tune in their radios and read our newspapers. Nearly every day and nearly every night these spill all the inside information there is. They make life easy for the spy. He no longer has to practice bribery and corruption. He no longer has to dig, intrigue and work. There is nothing he wants to know he cannot get merely by reading the press columns and listening to the air commentators. All of our weaknesses are there displayed—detailed and documented. Literally, the covers are pulled off of everything.

—o—

The number of divisions we lack to have an effective army; the obsolete character of our weapons; the shoddy nature of our equipment; the reasons we cannot under present conditions hope to win either in Asia or in western Europe against Russian aggression; the hopelessness of our position should the Soviets start something else somewhere else while the great bulk of our military power is locked up in Korea; the futility of our representatives at the United Nations and the frightful way in which we are bleeding to death economically—all this and more is being trumpeted to the world every day. That it gives vital information to our enemy is undeniable; that it spreads confusion and alarm at home is equally so.

—o—

There are several things to be said in its defense. The chief one is that mostly the depressing facts thus presented are true and that nothing short of the truth will arouse the people, the Congress and the Administration to the sort of action for which this crisis cries. Failure fully to describe in detail our military feebleness and shortcomings, it is claimed, would do more harm than good. In no other way than full revelation of our weaknesses, shocking as they are, can the nation be jarred out of a false sense of security, prepared for the sacrifices that must be made, forced to grasp the realities and move toward the bipartisan unity which is so essential.

—o—

Conceding all this, there nevertheless is a strong feeling that some limits should be laid down and some restraints imposed. No one wants to suppress news and it is important to give the American people the facts. But it does seem that some way might be found to lessen the hysterical and panicky outpourings in the press and on the air. A considerable part of this emanates from high-level officials of the Government—including some in the armed forces—who for personal reasons ought to be above feeding this sort of stuff to their favorite columnists and commentators. They got into this habit through the long fight to drive Louis Johnson out of office—and it now seems to have become ingrained. Probably the Johnson resignation was necessary, but the continuation of that kind of campaign, involving complete exposure of our internal disabilities, is certainly not desirable.

—o—

It is easy to identify some of these "sources" and a growing number of newspaper men are restive about the situation. They do not, of course, want another absurd Office of Information in charge of another Elmer Davis. They don't want rigid restrictions that hamper straight reporting. But most of them would welcome such a censorship as that conducted in the last war by Mr. Byron Price, who managed to guard the national security by securing the co-operation of newspaper publishers and reporters without ever making them feel the weight of a censorship. In brief, under Mr. Price's intelligent direction they developed a sense of responsibility and censored themselves. Incidentally, most of them would also welcome some action to keep the Voice of America, which operates under the State Department, from such asininities as its recent silly boasting of the extraordinary effectiveness of its propaganda beamed to Communist China just before the Chinese Communist armies poured over the border. That, of course, was worse than the beaming to western Europe of the music of a New York jazz band as a sample of American culture and progress. But both were stupid.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

There was a very funny sketch on television the other night.

Sid Caesar was playing the part of an eccentric theatrical producer.

He was rehearsing his little troupe of actors in a Shakespearean play.

Headed by Imogene Coca, they hammed and emoted all over the stage.

But Caesar wanted more hamming, more emoting.

"I don't FEEL anything," he kept on saying. "It ain't no good until I FEEL it. I've got to feel it with my HEART," and he pounded the place where his heart was supposed to be.

Finally the actors got mad.

They threw Sid Caesar on the floor. They pounded and pummelled him.

"Now, do you FEEL it?" asked Imogene Coca, who was playing the part of a lovely princess.

As I mentioned in one of my columns, we can thank our comics and comedians for what they give us.

Because they give us not only laughter, but sound common sense (philosophy, you may call it) in digestible form.

"I've got to FEEL it," said the actor.

How true THAT is!

What a telling example of that truth we are getting right now in our own lives!

We have done an awful lot of talking about an awful lot of things — taxes, war, Communism, the atomic bomb, the inefficiency of our government, rotten politics and what not.

But much of it was just talk, acting, hamming.

It had not FLOORED us yet. It was still as if somebody else had written the play and we were reciting our little parts.

We went merrily along—"business as usual."

Then came Korea. Thousands of our boys were called. Many were killed. Many more were wounded.

Now we BEGAN to feel. We had hit the floor—just like Sid Caesar.

Things looked bad.

Then they got better. We were on the way to victory.

Right away we started to feel good again. Weren't we the invincible Americans?

Did these little North Koreans think for a moment that they could lick us? Ha! Don't make me laugh.

Suddenly the tide turned. While snarling monkey-like Chino-Communist delegates came to the United Nations, a half million and more two-legged animals out of Manchuria poured over the border to destroy our soldiers and to drive us into the sea.

We all know what is in the air.

None of us know what will be next.

But we are on the floor once more, being mauled and pummelled. We FEEL again.

When the human being feels with his heart he becomes strong. When the AMERICAN heart begins to feel—and I wish to God it would feel more often and more strongly—it accomplishes wonders.

This isn't a show. This is the REAL thing.

And THIS, I'm sure, won't be over—until "It's over, over there."

Government Heads Worry Over Farm Disaster Loans

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Government officials are worried that they will not have enough money to lend farmers in disaster loan areas.

An official of the farmers home administration, which makes loans to disaster-stricken farmers who cannot get help otherwise, says that although a shortage of funds is not yet in sight, he is "worried" that one might develop during the peak lending period of January and February.

The FHA has a revolving fund of about 45 million dollars available to farmers. It is designed to help them get started again in the succeeding year after their crops or buildings have been destroyed by natural causes such as floods, snow storms, high winds and insect damage.

FHA also has 18 and a half million dollars in the bank which it can use to make additional loans in areas that already have been designated as disaster sections.

But as of June 30, 1950, the agency had loans outstanding of more than 29 million dollars. This money was loaned to farmers from the begining of the disaster loan program April 16, 1949, to June 30, 1950.

The FHA says that since most of the loans were for 1950 operating expenses, few payments were due in the 1950 fiscal year.

Since last June, FHA has declared more than 600 counties in the U. S., including all of five states and Puerto Rico, as disaster areas. Entire states declared disaster areas are Alabama, Mississippi, New Jersey, South Colina and Vermont.

Although the peak period for declaring disaster areas has passed, the officials says that FHA will not hit the big lending spree until early next year.

Milk Pasteurizing Can Be Farm Job

LINCOLN, Neb., (INS)—A simple and inexpensive method of pasteurizing milk right on the farm has been revealed by two University of Nebraska scientists.

By using equipment the housewife has on hand, plus an inexpensive thermometer, milk can be pasteurized with little work or watching. The pasteurization meets department of health standards and the milk's flavor and creamline are kept.

Home economics researcher A. E. Barager and Dr. P. A. Downs of the dairy husbandry department worked out the method. They fitted a thermometer in a two-piece mason jar lid, put in a water bath canner and turned on the heat.

It worked, but they found it necessary to have the water at least a half-inch over the lids in order to pasteurize all of the milk.

The researchers had to work out a series of complicated computations to determine when to reduce the heat on various types of stoves because the water bath becomes hot more quickly than the milk. To tabilize the milk temperature at 143 to 145 degrees Fahrenheit, the heat must be turned down before the milk reaches that temperature. For electric or gas stoves, the heat should be turned low when the milk reaches 130 to 131 degrees. For gasoline and kerosene stoves turn down the heat to the lowest simmer when the milk reaches 136 to 137 degrees. The milk must be held between 143 and 145 degrees for 30 minutes.

After the milk is pasteurized, it should be cooled quickly and stored in a refrigerator.

Y-Teen Chorus Presents Programs

Newly organized Y-Teen chorus of New Castle high school has recently presented Christmas programs in the community hospitals and in the home for elderly people.

On December 14 the halls of Jameson Memorial hospital and New Castle hospital rang with familiar Christmas carols sung by the chorus of girls' voices. In many cases patients were able to join in singing the carols as the girls moved from floor to floor bringing their Christmas wishes.

The impression made upon the Y-Teen girls was expressed when many said: "The patients seem to enjoy the carols so very much. May we sing more for them?" The Christmas cheer brought to patients, therefore, carried to the girls a feeling that they were really doing something for the shut-in patients of the hospitals.

A Christmas program was presented Sunday afternoon, Dec. 17, at the Almira Home for Old Ladies. The 43 women of the home heard special numbers sung by the chorus such as "I'm Dreaming of a White Christmas", "Winter Wonderland", "Santa Claus Is Coming to Town", "I'll See You Again" and favorite carols.

Soloists were Kay Spenser and Kathleen Essinger. On the program also were Nancy Lumley, playing a selection of Christmas music for piano, and Lynn Thayer giving a very fine presentation of "The Night Before Christmas" and "The First Christmas Rose".

The chorus is under the direction of the teen-age program director of the Y. W. C. A.

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

Two bitter rivals in Hollywood were sipping tea in a portable dressing room while technicians set up the scenery and lighting for a new sequence. One produced a picture of a woman about 30, with a plump infant in her arms, and giggled coyly, "This is how I looked 20 years ago."

"You haven't aged a bit," proclaimed the other vehemently, "but who was the baby you were holding?"

The Columbia Jester brings William Blake up to date in this manner:

Tiger! Tiger! burning bright
In the forests of the night
Lord, how real you seem to be
Cavorting on my home TV.

Which reminds me of the drunk who peered intently into a laundromat and grumbled, "How bad can television get?"

MILK TESTERS

Public health wokers go around to dairies and milk wagons and farms to test the milk.

They measure the amount of cream or fat in it.

Doctors measure it by the number of calories it provides. Cream and butter are not so good for Mary Jane if she is inclined to be too plump.

Obesity is one of our serious diseases. A little of it is plenty.

Prevention is our only hope. When a person has been too fat for awhile, the damage is done.

State Police Say:

The holiday season is with us—make sure you are. At this time of the year the streets are jammed with Christmas shoppers who otherwise would not be on the streets. This factor, plus reduced visibility and slippery streets, spell danger—especially for walkers. The concert will be under the direction of E. C. Book, supervisor of vocal music.

The vocal group will introduce their program with a chorus of 70 students composed of the girls' choir, boys' chorus and the mixed chorus of the high school. The group will present the sacred cantata "Christ Is Born" composed by Joseph W. Clokey. There are 12 numbers in the cantata, making use of solo, duet, and choral selections.

In the second portion of the well arranged program, the a cappella choir will be featured. Original music, selected excerpts from 20 songs and carols, appropriate to the Christmas season and abridged verses from the Holy Scriptures will be used. A brief informal carol sing will follow on the stage following the program when all music students join with the audience in singing.

The concert is expected to attract a capacity audience to the school auditorium on Wednesday evening. No admission is being charged an a cordial invitation is extended to the entire community.

Reports Of Polio Cure Development Met With Caution

MIAMI, Dec. 18.—(INS)—University of Miami officials were cautious today in answering questions about the school's reported development of a cure for infantile paralysis, but did not deny the report.

Commentator Walter Winchell broadcast last night that a possible cure for the disease is being developed at the University of Miami.

Winchell said the cure, based on cobra venom, has been used experimentally on monkeys.

But officials were careful in answering questions about the Winchell announcement.

Dr. Murray Sanders, bacteriology professor and head of the University's polio research group, warned against premature newspaper accounts before data is presented "through proper scientific channels". He added:

"We are not ready for publication of our findings."

The Miami Herald said that the polio research going on at the University has been known to local medical leaders for some time.

A herald story said Miami newspapers had been pledged to secrecy in hopes that the announcement would not be made until the treatment had been given to enough people to show conclusive proof of its value.

Lie Detector Test In Death Of Girl Run Over By Car

ATLANTA, Dec. 18—(INS)—A lie detector test is scheduled today for 29-year-old Clyde Gentry, a Rome, Ga., school teacher who is charged with murdering Barbara Jean Baxter, a government employe, by running his car over her after they had attended a lavish country club dance.

Gentry begged Georgia Bureau of Investigation agents to give him the lie test after telling them his story Saturday.

FBI Lt. Ed Norton reported Gentry too shaken to take the test yesterday.

Gentry told officers that he remembered trying to stop before hitting someone on the winding mountain road on the way home from north Georgia's Sequoyah club. He said he thought Barbara Jean was still beside him in the car.

He took the girl's lifeless body to the Dalton, Ga., hopsital. Sheriff L. L. Vinings said Gentry had been drinking.

Gentry claims he "blacked out" and did not remember anything else. Police said the girl had not been criminally attacked.

Mrs. John Wildberg Found Dead In Hotel In Beverly Hills

BEVERLY HILLS, Cal., Dec. 18. —(INS)—Mrs. Constance Wildberg, 25, wife of John Wildberg, who produced "Anna Lucasta" on the New York stage, was found dead today and police attributed her death to an overdose of sleeping tablets.

Mrs. Wildberg's body was found in a Beverly Hills hotel room. Police said she registered alone and gave her home as New York City.

A note found in the room read: "Pappy dearest: I hope you will forgive me, I can't stand it any longer. I've always loved you so very much. I hope you understand that this life is unbearable. There is no remedy but what I'm doing now. Connie."

Wildberg reportedly is in Los Angeles.

WARSHIPS AND PLANES DEFEND HUNGNAM

main forces of Red China's millionman invasion army still are ranged principally along the 37th parallel in North Korea. This is roughly about 70 miles north of the U. S. Eighth army's defense line.

May Not Invade South

Within the intervening space, it was added, only North Korean regular and guerrilla troops are operating, with small arms and no artillery.

Non-American circles in the UN forces in western Korea speculated on the possibility that Communist China's top man, Mao Tse-Tung, may be unwilling to commit his forces irrevocably to an invasion of South Korea at this stage of the war.

These quarters discussed the possibility that Red China still may cling to the hope of effecting a politica' peace settlement on its own terms.

On Korea's frozen northeast coast, the eight-inch guns of U. S. heavy cruisers and the rifles of other warships laid down a protective curtain of exploding steel around the small beachhead enclosing Hungnam port.

Spearheads of a 120,000-man Chinese army probed the shrunken perimeter and one company-size attack was thrown back. The perimeter remained unbroken.

Navy Shellfire Aids

Land artillery barrages as well as naval shellfire kept the Chinese hordes at bay while carrier-borne American navy and marine planes killed additional hundreds of reds in air strikes on a dozen enemy troop concentrations.

Far to the southwest, red guerrilla thrusts to within 34 miles of Seoul portended the anticipated big blow toward or across the 38th parallel which may bring the Korean conflict to its decisive stage.

In the face of the approaching crisis, 75-year-old Dr. Syngman Rhee, president of the Republic of Korea, denied that his government had advised residents of Seoul to evacuate the capital.

"We plan to defend our capital to the last man," the elderly ROK chief of state vowed.

The president charged that "Communist cells" inside Seoul were attempting to create panic among Seoul's 1,500,000 residents by spreading tvacuation rumors.

Dr. Rhee said two government ward leaders took the "ill-advised and unfortunate" action of advising citizens in their neighborhoods to flee the capital which had been liberated from the North Korean reds three months ago.

The president spoke as red guerrillas attempted to infiltrate UN lines below Yonchon, only 34 miles northeast of Seoul. Some 15 to 20 reds were spotted as they tried to slip through. They were beaten off.

Not far away, troops of the U. S. Eighth army's ROK Fifth division stormed and captured strategic Hill 183 on the 38th parallel near the middle of the peninsula. Thirty-five North Korean reds were killed in this action.

CONGRESS MAY SPEED UP, TO END FRIDAY

gram, and on a bill setting up a $3,100,000 civilian defense network against a Russian atomic bomb attack.

Tipoff on how well the speedup will work may come today from the senate appropriations committee. Leaders said it is due to complete work on the $18,000,000,000 defense bill before nightfall.

However, the bill provides $840,000,000 in new money for the atomic program and the committee has not even heard witnesses on this provision. But senators sometimes act quickly in face of a vacation.

First On Senate Floor

First on the senate floor today is to be the bill to prevent interstate shipment of slot machines. Democratic leaders expect Sen. Malone (R) Nev., to renew his filibuster against this measure.

They said that if Malone starts a prolonged attack on the bill, they will consent to lay it aside and let it die.

The civilian atomic defense measure, providing a federal-state-local program, may be the next step up for senate debate. Its passage is expected after only a few hours of argument. The house is due to work on the same measure Wednesday.

The tax bill will get its final committee polishing today. The timetable calls for it to come up on the senate floor Tuesday or Wednesday. Leaders said the appropriations bill might be pushed in ahead. Either way, both measures face a comparatively fast trip through the senate.

The Arc de Triomphe in Paris, which was built by Napoleon to commemorate his victories, was only one-third finished at the time of his downfall.

Bangle Day Is Huge Success

Bangle Day, a yearly Rainbow Girls project for aiding the Tuberculosis society, was accorded huge success Saturday, when receipts were returned totaling $611.14.

Misses Kathryn Eckert and Penny Thompson will be awarded prizes from No. 1 Order of the Rainbow for selling the greatest number of bangles.

Mrs. M. R. Hornung and Mrs. Howard Reynolds of the Rainbow board were in charge of approximately 70 assisting members of the Rainbow assembly, and placed Worthy Advisor Miss Jackie Funkhouser in charge of grouping the girls.

Misses Key Spencer, Ruth Snee, Lottie Shaffer and Claudia Nicholson acted as captains, and all the girls were stationed throughout the city by Mrs. Hornung and Mrs. Reynolds.

STEEL AND MEAT INDUSTRY LEADERS DISCUSS CONTROLS

are expected to center in an "honor system" appeal to producers and retailers to hold the line on market basket items at present levels.

Meet Meat Industry Leaders

ESA meets today with meat industry representatives to discuss the price situation.

In New York, Paul S. Willis, president of the Grocery Manufacturers of America. Asserted that he does not believe that allout price controls are needed. He said that because of substantial food surpluses now on hand, there probably would not be any great boost in food prices in the near future.

But ESA, meanwhile, pointed to the dangers of inflation and warned that unless the economy is strengthened now:

"Our defense preparations will be dangerously delayed, and, should total war be forced upon us, our freedom could be lost.

"Partial sacrifice now, shared as fairly as possible by all segments of our population, may well be the means of preventing total sacrifice later."

To Announce "Fair Standards"

President Truman said the economic stabilization agency will announce "fair standards" on wages and prices in all fields and ask industry and labor to observe these voluntary ceilings.

The latter will apply while the government fills an organization to administer and enforce a general wage-price freeze. That job may take about 60 days.

Mr. Truman warned, however, that if the voluntary ceilings are not observed, compulsory controls and rollbacks will be invoked where necessary.

The auto price rollback provoked bitter protests from car makers. General Motors pointed out the action ignored recent increases in auto materials prices, including a $5.50 a ton boost in steel.

Walter Reuther, president of the CIO United Auto Workers, called the government move "pin-point discrimination" and he is expected to make new protests Wednesday at a meeting of the auto industry and the UAW with the Federal Wage Stabilization Board.

Cooties Hosts To Deshon Vets

Annual Christmas Party Held Sunday

On Sunday afternoon and evening, the 779 veterans who are patients in Deshon Veterans hospital at Butler, were entertained at the annual Christmas party, sponsored by the Military Order of Cooties, the honor degree of the Veterans of Foreign Wars.

Post representatives were present from New Castle, Sharon, Greenville, Farrell, Oil City, Butler, Monaca, and Ellwood City.

There were 779 Christmas packages, containing candy, gift wallets, and a book of tickets to the Post Exchange, distributed. In addition, the Cooties provided free telephone calls for all who desired to call their homes, 300 taking advantage of the opportunity, the calls going to points from Florida and Texas, north to Massachusetts and Wisconsin.

An hour and a half of professional entertainment was provided in the recreation room of the hospital, in addition to which four groups visited the wards. These groups donated their talents, and consisted of the Lamplighters, Bob Pandice and his group, the Royal Ambassadors, and the Pozea Tamburitz group, the latter from Girard, O.

The entertainment was greatly enjoyed by the disabled ones at the hospital.

Mrs. Elaine Scott To Wed Steinbeck

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Mrs. Elaine Scott, ex-wife of Actor Zachary Scott, today confirmed reports she will wed Author John Steinbeck on December 28.

Her confirmations came after Steinbeck was reported to have made the "announcement" last night in the sentimental surroundings of a Faye Emerson-Skitch Henderson wedding reception at the Stork club.

Socialist Mrs. Scott said that was no "annuoncement," however, because the wedding invitations have been out for "some time."

The wedding—third for Steinbeck, second for Mrs. Scott—is scheduled to be held in the New York town house of the author's publisher, Harold K. Guinzburg.

Steinbeck ended a five-year, two-children marrige to Gwyndolyn Conder Steinbeck in Reno on October 30, 1948. He charged extreme cruelty of a mental nature. His California divorce from his first wife, Carol, became final only 11 days before that marriage.

Mrs. Scott was married to the film star for 14 years before they ended it in divorce December 2, 1949.

Shirley Temple Is On Honeymoon With Her Second Husband

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Shirley Temple, famous one-time child star of the movies, is on a honeymoon with her second husband today and intimates said she is giving up her screen career.

Reports are current that she may make an occasional radio or television appearance, but otherwise will devote herself to her new husband, Charles Alden Black, 30, and her small daughter, Linda Sue.

Black is the socially prominent son of James Black of San Francisco, president of the Pacific Gas and Electric company.

They were married Saturday afternoon in the Del Monte home of the bridegroom's parents and are honeymooning near there now.

The marriage was conducted by Superior Court Judge Henry Jorgenson before a fireplace trimmed with pine boughs and flowers. Shirley wore a gray suit.

Black was a lieutenant commander in the Navy during World War II. He was cited twice for bravery. He is in the Reserve and may be called back to active duty any day.

He met the screen star when her parents took her to Honolulu last January to ease the heartache of her divorce from John Agar a month earlier.

Crime Probers Are In Chicago

CHICAGO, Dec. 18 — (INS) — The Senate Crime Investigating Committee reopens its second round of Chicago hearings today under the shadow of a wire tapping incident confirmed by its chief counsel Rudolph Halley.

Sen. Kefauver (D), Tenn., chairman of the five-man committee declared Sunday that "Chicago is the hub of interstate racketeering."

He said a parade of witnesses will be summoned in four days of hearings to document evidence pointing to crime activities which cross state lines.

The wire tapping incident disclosed by Halley involved his hotel room Saturday night and forced the committee counsel to resort to pay station telephones for contact with his Washington office.

The Senate begins its new round of Chicago hearings armed with a towering mass of evidence collected during the last four months for use against organized racketeering and crime in the midwestern metropolis.

Slated for appearances before the crime probers are a host of wealthy gangsters, politicians and minor hoodlums of varied activities.

Kefavuer told newsmen on his arrival at Chicago yesterday that the committee would not deal with local crime, adding that Chicago policemen will be called to testify only on interstate matters.

Accidents claimed three times as many lives of American children last year as did pneumonia.

Emergency Action Gives President Wide Powers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(INS)—President Truman gained many new powers to strengthen the defenses of the United States when he proclaimed a state of national emergency.

It is up to the president to decide whether to use these powers which are contained in numerous federal laws. He can use them all, or place into operation only those which he deems are necessary to facilitate the transition of near peacetime federal operations to a virtual war footing.

Perhaps the most important new authority for the emergency speed-up in the defense production program is the power to negotiate contracts and purchase materials without advertising for bids.

Under this new power, the federal government can place contracts for defense materials and products in such a manner as to obtain quickest and most efficient delivery with the least dislocation to the national economy.

Important Powers

Other important powers are:

1. Authority to make rules and regulations governing anchorage movements of both foreign and domestic vessels in U. S. waters, with rights of inspection, the taking of possession and the control of such vessels. Similar powers are conferred on the governor of the Panama canal zone.

2. Authority to suspend provisions of the eight-hour on contracts with the government subject to overtime payment.

3. The navy secretary may refuse to accept resignations of enlisted men.

4. Removal of statutory limitations on the numbers of naval and marine officers, and the limitation on the number of retired admirals serving on active duty.

5. Grants authority to name general officers of the army, navy and marine corps without limitation, and removes limitations on number of retired major generals serving in the army.

6. Gives authority to call retired enlisted men of the navy and commissioned and warrant officers of the coast guard back to active duty. Coast guard reserve may be called or continued on active duty.

7. Authorizes extension of enlistments in the navy or marine corps.

8. Authority for the surgeon general to appoint as many contract surgeons as necessary.

9. Permits erection of temporary forts or fortifications.

10. Authorizes the president to suspend or amend rules and regulations of the federal communications commission applicable to any or all radio stations in the U. S., to cause the closing of any station and the removal of its equipment, or to authorize its use and control by the government upon just compensation to the owners.

11. Gives government authority to control transfer of ownership or registry of domestic shipping outside U. S. jurisdiction.

12. Authorizes the maritime board to terminate charters on public vessels and to requisition or purchase vessels.

13. Authorizes issuance of temporary army commissions by the president and suspends mandatory retirement of army officers.

14. Authorizes provision of war risk insurance to appropriate persons.

15. Provides that members of Congress, leaving offices to enter armed forces, shall retain their status as members of Congress during their military service.

Five-Day Furloughs At Camp Atterbury

CAMP ATTERBURY, Ind., Dec. 18.—(INS)—Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler, 28th division commander, announced today that half of the division may have five-day furloughs over Christmas and the remainder similar time off over New Year's.

Previously the men were to receive 10-day yuletide furloughs but they were called off because of the gravity of the Korean situation.

WHERE IS NEXT RED AGGRESSION TO BE?

—Acme Telephoto

WASHINGTON—As the map here shows, if the Kremlin decides on aggressive move in Europe in the near future, the United States will have to depend largely upon itself for what resistance the Western Allies put up. Although President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee agreed that the defenses of Western Europe must be strengthened as quickly as possible, the military confederation of the free nations—talked of for many months—is still largely a paper plan.

Eagles Auxiliary Will Entertain Home Children

New Castle auxiliary No. 455, Fraternal Order of Eagles, will hold its annual Christmas party for the children of the Margaret L. Henry Home Tuesday, December 9, at 8 p. m.

The members will meet at the Eagles home at 7 o'clock and those with cars are to provide transportation for the ones who need a way to go to the home.

The usual gift of crates of several kinds of fruit will be sent to children of the home, and entertainment will be furnished for the children by J. DeFonso and other members of the auxiliary.

XMAS BELLS

NEW YORK—(INS)—Ringing of Christmas bells is a tradition probably inherited from the old English "Devil's Knell." House Beautiful magazine, reporting on the origin of Christmas customs, says the English tolled bells for one hour before midnight on Christmas Eve to announce the death of the devil.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

CHANGING WITH THE TIMES

How easy it is to see things only through the eyes of our own experience. As a boy Ronny Bailey's dad worked long and hard to save up the dollars he needed to buy a bicycle. Now he can't see Ronny getting one without having to work just as hard. Yet, it simply isn't possible for Ronny to do so. There are child labor laws today and other conditions that make it an entirely different situation.

In mother's home town perhaps and in her day, nice girls always came home from a party by 10 or 10:30 o'clock. In spite of the fact that she knows that all the youngsters in her daughter's group stay out until after midnight on party nights and even though she knows they're all fine youngsters, it's hard to change her ideas on what is right.

You may not be disturbed by either of these things. But it will pay to ask yourself whether there aren't other things you feel strongly about because of what you did as a boy or girl back there many years ago. It's not always easy to change with the times. And, of course, there may be some changes that aren't too good.

But often, our objection to the "new ways" of behaving comes largely from the fact that "this wasn't the way we did it when we were children".

TRAINING SONS

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—A vocational guidance program has been instituted by the Eastern Gas and Fuel Improvement Associates of Pennsylvania. The program is designed to train the sons of coal miners for executive positions in the mining industry.

ADD RUDOLPH

NEW YORK—(INS)—Children have added a newcomer to Santa's traditional reindeer. In addition to Dancer and Prancer and the others, now there's Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer. One company has just put out a set of luncheon napkins, cocktail napkins and a paper tablecloth. Rudolph the red-nosed reindeer is featured in the design, which should be popular with the kiddies.

Bank Robbery In Washington Reported Solved

—WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(INS)—The FBI announced that it has solved the Feb. 17 robbery of the Hamilton National bank in Washington, D. C., in which $28,351 was taken from a branch office.

The FBI arrested three men in the robbery and said one of them, Christopher Tassor, 34, had $8700 on him. He was arrested on Dec. 15 in North Hollywood, Calif.

The others arrested were: Leon Miskin, 22, of Washington, D. C., who was picked up in the nation's capital, and Nicholas K. Carrigan, 22, who was arrested at Fort Meade, Md.

The FBI reported that "a large sum of money was found in Miskin's car. Carrigan had been stationed at Fort Meade since his induction Dec. 13.

Lou Nichols, assistant to FBI Director Hoover, revealed also that at least one of the men had apparently participated in the robbery of the National Metropolitan bank in Washington, D. C., on Dec. 7 when $35,755 was stolen.

Nichols said that "several thousand dollars" of the money recovered was part of the loot taken from this bank.

The Hamilton bank robbery occurred in the Shepherd Park branch near the Washington-Maryland state line. Nichols stated that the solution of the robbery was due to the close cooperation of the Washington police with the FBI.

Reports Vinson May Be Named As U.S. Secretary Of State

By ROBERT G. NIXON
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—There are persistent unconfirmed reports in Washington today that President Truman will name Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson as secretary of state to replace Dean Acheson before the 82d Congress convenes January 3.

The White House and Vinson refused comment. Acheson, backed by a written declaration of the President's confidence in him, is in Brussels for an important meeting of North Atlantic foreign ministers.

Amid the welter of rumors there was one significant fact:

The President conferred secretly and at length with Vinson over the week-end during the Chief Executive's brief cruise aboard the yacht Williamsburg.

'Madman Sniper' Is Being Hunted In Philadelphia

—Acme Telephoto

MRS. CLAIRE COHEN

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Police today intensified one of Philadelphia's greatest manhunts in history as a "madman sniper" who killed a housewife Saturday night remained at large.

The assassin fired two bullets, one of which pierced a venetian blind and fatally wounded Mrs. Claire Cohen, 28, as she was washing dishes in her mother's home in the Oak Lane section.

More than 150 policemen and auxiliary officers were detailed by Mayor Bernard Samuel to comb the area with "every facility at your command." Many fearful residents stayed in their homes last night.

Mrs. Ann Fine, a housewife, declared:

"We are afraid to come to the door. A person is not even safe in her own home. My husband and myself are not leaving our house unless we must."

Coroner Joseph Ominsky issued this statement:

"We are of the opinion that there is a mad gunman at large. We are calling on the public in general to notify us any time they see shooting or hear anyone shooting."

Police said the sniper may be the same person who fired a shot at a youth as he was waiting for a bus just a few minutes before Mrs. Cohen was slain.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Dec. 18.—(INS)—Conductors on the Birmingham-Southern railroad remained on strike today and there appeared to be little hope for a speedy settlement.

Fire Damages Home At Neshannock Falls

Some furniture on the first floor of the home of Raymond Kloss of Neshannock Falls, Wilmington township, was destroyed by a fire inside the house Friday evening.

The family returned from shopping about 7 o'clock in the evening to find the inside of the house on fire. They were successful in removing much of the furniture and getting out most of the blaze before the arrival of the New Wilmington volunteer fire department.

The fire department completed the work begun by the family. Total amount of damage to the furniture is not known. Nothing but the furniture was destroyed.

It is probable that the fire started from a small gas burner on the main floor, George Brown, fire chief reports.

President Will Ask New Powers

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(INS)—President Truman will ask Congress today for new powers to cope with the present critical emergency.

The President's request was disclosed by the congressional "Big Four" after a White House conference this morning.

The congressional leaders were not clear in their mind immediately as to exactly what powers the President has in mind, but indicated the request will be for restoration of some additional powers which the President had in World War Two.

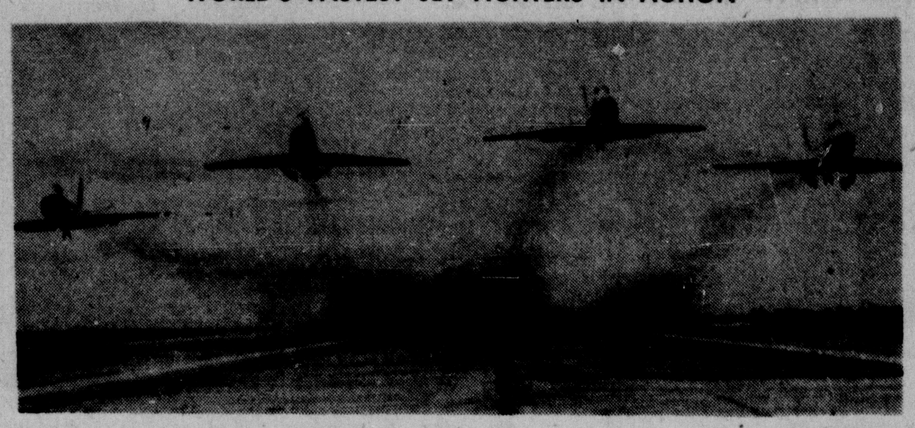
The request was expected to go to Capitol Hill later today.

House Speaker Rayburn (D) Tex. said Congress may continue in session right up to the opening session of the 82nd Congress early next month.

Rayburn said the present plan is to continue through the holidays with three-day recesses over the weekends.

He said that until urgent legislation on new taxes and defense appropriations are out of the way, Congress cannot think of adjourning sine die.

WORLD'S FASTEST JET FIGHTERS IN ACTION



—Acme Telephoto

MOSES LAKE, WASH.—Four abreast, North American F-86 Sabres roar into the air in formation, leaving black trails of exhaust behind. This type plane, the world's fastest jet fighter, went into combat for the first time over Korea on Sunday and shot a Soviet-made MIG-15 jet down in flames while traveling faster than sound.

Calls Received For Small Fires

Several calls were received over the weekend for minor fires, Fire Chief H. F. Steinbrink stated today.

While the fire was in progress at The Arena, a call was received from the home of John Plonko, of 1314 Howard Way, where a steam pipe has burst.

At 5:44 p.m., Sunday, a call was received to the Wach Block, at Long and Scioto, where it was found the ash pit was full, causing smoke to seep out into the building.

A false alarm was sounded from Box 59 at 3:52 p.m., Sunday.

Saturday evening at 5:55 o'clock firemen were called to the M. V. Shoemaker home at 720 Harbor street. Mr. Shoemaker went to light the oven, and some gas which had accumulated from a leak exploded. There was no fire damage

Complains Of Bus Service

When council convened Monday in city hall they heard a complaint made by Rev. A. E. Simon concerning bus service, which he termed ininadequate. He said that he had waited between 30 and 45 minutes about 5:30 p.m. recently to obtain a ride on a northbound bus.

The clergyman charged that the buses are operated in twos and threes and they are overcrowded. He also maintained the Highland buses should not go all the way to Mahoningtown.

Mayor John F. Haven in reply said that there is heavy auto traffice now and the Christmas rush is on. He said busses have to follow in the wake of autos and autos block their operations.

However, the mayor said the council would discuss the matter and see what can be done about the alleged situation.

City To Turn Over Township Wage Tax Collections

Acting upon a request of Wage Tax Receiver L. A. McClung, council in city hall, Monday, voted to pay to Neshannock, Union, Hickory, and Shenango townships a total of $1,134.52 wage tax for 1949, of residents of those townships which was withheld and paid to the city by New Castle employers. This represents a second distribution, the first distribution having been $19,218.60.

The school systems of the townships have a wage tax for school purposes, and authorized the city's collector to pay the amounts already paid, into township coffers.

The cost of collection, 10 percent, was ordered withheld by a vote of four to one, Mayor John F. Haven dissenting.

He said he voted negatively because "we have an agreement to prorate the cost of collecting the wage tax."

According to Finance Director Albert A. Hoyland the charge made to the school board some time ago was 10 percent.

Mr. Hoyland added that the exact cost of collecting would not be answerable until an audit was compiled in March.

Helicopter And Auto In Collision; Four Persons Hurt

WASHINGTON, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Four persons are recovering today from injuries suffered in what can be mildly described as a freak accident—a collision between a helicopter and an automobile.

The accident happened when the helicopter, piloted by Alfred R. Bridgford, 30, and carrying his three small sons, was forced to land because of engine trouble. The only open space available was Bradley boulevard.

Driving on Bradley boulevard at the moment of the helicopter engine failure was Charles C. Butt, 38, who had nine other persons in his car. The aircraft dropped immediately in front of him, and he was unable to miss it.

Bridgford and his sons all were taken to subarban hospital, none critically nijured. No one in the automobile was hurt.

The helicopter was wrecked and the automobile damaged.

Stalin And Aides Return To Soviet In Sunday Election

MOSCOW, Dec. 18 — (INS) — Premier Stalin and his top aides were returned to the Moscow Soviet in Sunday's local elections which saw a 100 per cent turnout of voters in Stalin's home district

The Russian news agency Tass announced that 95 per cent turnouts were common in other large cities. Tass said the 100 per cent showing in Stalin's districts was recorded by noon.

The elections were for city Soviets, or councils, and the ballots consisted of a single slate. General elections were held in Russia last March.

Stalin was named as "candidate of all the people" in many Russian cities.

Sweden Also No Longer In Need Of Marshall Funds

STOCKHOLM, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Sweden followed England's example today by saying that it no longer needs Marshall aid funds.

A foreign office spokesman declared that the Scandanavian country feels that it can get along without the funds that were supplied for economic rehabilitation.

He said that Sweden hopes to earn enough dollars through exports and the new European payments union.

Last week Britain and the U. S. jointly announced that further Marshall plan aid to Britain will be suspended on January 1—one year ahead of schedule.

Five Hundred At Plant Party

Universal-Rundle Company Employes Have Yule Event

Through hard work and cooperation of management and men, the Universal-Rundle Corporation has risen to third place in the vitrified china industry in the United States.

Clyde M. Whittaker, president of the company, made this statement Saturday night when the New Castle plant held its annual Christmas party in the Cathedral. About five hundred were present.

Forecast for Year

Due to Regulation X, which restricts home building, Mr. Whittaker said the damand for home units would be off some in the coming year but said the demand for units in government installations would replace it. He prophesied a busy six months for the first half of the year.

Mr. Whittaker paid tribute to the leadership and cooperation of Local 133, National Brotherhood Brotherhood of Operative Potters. The officials and men have worked with management to bring the company to its present place and as a result, relations between management and men are most satisfactory.

George E. Crawford, vice president in charge of production, spoke briefly on the work of the past year. A. O. Knecht, plant manager was the toastmaster of the evening.

The newly-elected officers of Local 133 were honored, as were the 60 members of the Twenty-Five Year Club. The Athletic Association came in for recognition for its work in sports the past year.

An excellent dinner served by the Wimodausis was enjoyed and the floor show following was one of merit.

Bullet Hits Toe, Artificial Leg

Quiller Johnson, 901 Moravia street, fired a 45 calibre revolver bullet which struck and slightly wounded the right big toe then bounced off the floor and struck the left artificial leg of James Elliott, Elm street, at 10:45 p. m., Sunday, in the Colored Elks club, Home street.

The cause of the shooting was not determined in police court today.

Mayor John F. Haven ordered Johnson prosecuted before an alderman on charges of felonious shooting and possession of firearms.

Elliott was also ordered prosecuted before an alderman on a charge of intoxication and disorderly conduct. In police court Elliott denied he had been drinking.

Your New Social Security

By MYRON MILBOUER

(Manager of the New Castle Social Security Office)

Since I first wrote about household employees coming under social security next January, the Bureau of Old-Age and Survivors Insurance and the Bureau of Internal Revenue have brought out a small booklet, issued jointly and entitled "Do You Have A Maid?"

It is, I think, a model of clarity and brevity. It enables the household employer to determine quickly whether her worker comes under social security. Its back cover is an addressed and postage-free card to be torn off and mailed by those whose workers will be eligible for old-age and survivors insurance. In response to this card, the employer will receive the special form and the few instructions she will need for reporting her employees' wages and for remitting the social security tax.

As I have said, not all domestic employees will be eligible for social security; consequently not all household employers will need to mail in the post card contained in the booklet. Those who have a maid not more than one day a week will not make a report on that employee. Housewives who have a household worker on at least two different days a week, however, need the report form.

I say an average of two days weekly because that would add up to at least 24 days in a three-month period. Any household employee who works for you on at least 24 different days in a calendar quarter meets the days-of-work condition for social security. They need not be full days. For instance, if you have a maid one morning to do the laundry, and on the afternoon of another day in the same week to clean house or get the dinner, she will have worked for you on two different days in that week. If that is her regular weekly schedule, she will have worked for you on at least 24 days in the calendar quarter.

Does the reference to "calendar quarter" puzzle you? Well, it won't once you've seen the little explanatory diagram in the "Do You Have A Maid?" booklet. What it means is simply this. The year is divided into four quarters. These are the three-month periods, January through March, April through June, July through September, and October through December. Each is a calendar quarter. Your maid must be employed by you on 24 different days in a calendar quarter, not just in any three consecutive months like March, April, and May.

If you employ a maid on 24 different days in a calendar quarter, and pay her not less than $50 in cash wages for work in that quarter, she will come under social security and you will need to have the special report form that the post card from the "Do You Have A Maid?" booklet will bring you.

Just one thing more. The word "Maid" in the title to the booklet means more than it says. It means any kind of household employee, male or female. A gardener or a governess, a chauffeur or a nursemaid will be eligible for old-age and survivors insurance protection beginning in January wherever their work for one employer meets the 24 days-$50 cash wages conditions of the new social security.

If you have a household employee who is covered, get your copy of "Do You Have A Maid?" It is available now at social security offices, internal revenue offices, and at post offices everywhere.

In my next article, I shall tell about the provisions for dependent widowers under the amended social security law.

Day Road Mender Is Night Carver

TYDD, England — (INS)—Roadmender by day and artistic wood carver by night is the life of husky, 50-year-old George Catling.

Every evening Catling puts away his pickaxe and hurries home to continue work restoring and reproducing damaged historic church furnishings for a London museum.

Catling's delicate carvings have won praise and orders from all over the country and abroad.

Catling's work is all done with a home-made lathe and old razor blades.

In the Parish church in Tydd there is an inscription on the altar. It says: "!George Catling, roadman of Tydd, did make this altar."

He began woodcarving in 1935, because he could not find a job. Catling hopes to give up road-mending in three years' time and concentrate on an artistic future.

Hotels Blow Horns For Protection

HARTFORD, Conn.—Hotels are prepared to blow their own horns solely for the protection of guests.

Engineers of the Gamewell Co., leading producers of emergency signaling devices, reported today that Hartford, as far as they know, is the only city in the United States requiring hotels to use megaphone horns, instead of bells, for evacuation purposes.

All hotels have fire alarm systems directly connected with the fire department. The department conducted a sounding device test. It was learned the horn could be heard through heavy doors, two rooms and into the bath with water running. The bell could be heard only within one room, the sound being completely lost in the second.

Four Persons Are Killed In Auto Crash

SUNBURY, Pa., Dec. 18.—(INS)—Four persons were killed last night when their car mounted a slanting bridge girder and rolled over atop another automobile near Sunbury.

One of the dead was a 20-month-old girl, according to Northumberland county coroner Sidney Calloway.

The others were identified as the child's mother, Mrs. Andrew Ondes, 35, of Wilkes-Barre; Mrs. Mary Lesho, 60, and Miss Betty Lesho, 22, of Ashley, mother and sister of Mrs. Ondes.

In Sunbury hospital are Andrew Ondes, 37, the dead woman's husband; Paul Gebhart, 12, and Allen Black, 14, both of Northumberland. Each has head lacerations and possible internal injuries.

State police said Ondes, driving north on state route 14, missed a left turn leading to the Island Park bridge over the Susquehanna river. His car climbed a girder and rolled off on a southbound car driven by Carl W. Gebhart, Jr., 18, of Northumberland, who was uninjured.

Calloway said he was holding Ondes under $1,000 bond on a charge of involuntary manslaughter.

AIRPORT BLACKED OUT

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18.—(INS)—A power failure followed by a breakdown of an emergency power unit blacked out the Allegheny county airport for nearly three hours last night.

Planes circled the field during the blackout and three of them landed by the light of smudge pots which had bene placed along the runways. Others remained aloft until circuits were restored by Duquesne Light company which blamed the trouble on a faulty cable.

FEED BEES TO HELP THEM SURVIVE COLD

The poor honey flow during the fall makes it important that a close watch be kept on bee colonies to be sure they have enough food.

Beekeepers already are reporting many colonies in weakened condition from lack of food and some loss from starvation. Weak colonies may be saved by unting them. The usual practice is to put two weak colonies together as one.

In cold weather it is necessary to feed bees sugar candy rather than sugar syrup. Candy for the bees may be made from the following recipe: 15 pounds of cane sugar, 3½ pounds of glucose or light colored corn syrup, 5 cups of water, and ½ teaspoon of tartaric acid or cream of tartar.

Mix the sugar, glucose and water. Stir as it heats until the sugar dissolves. Heat to 230 degree Fahrenheit, and then add the cream of tartar. Continue to heat to 242 degrees F. Let the mixture cool to 200 degrees F. Then start to beat and continue beating until the mixture starts to harden.

Pour the mixture into a mold, such as a shoe box or a pan lined with wax paper. Place the candy when cold on two small three-eights-inch strips of wood directly over the cluster. Cover the candy with burlap or other packing material inside an empty super.

When the outside temperature is above 50 degrees F. it is possible to feed a heavy sugar syrup made from 2 to 2½ parts of sugar to one part water by volume. Place the feeder can inside an empty super over the opening in the inner cover. Wrap the feeder can with newspaper or burlap to prevent too-rapid cooling.

GOOD SPIRITS, SHARING KEYNOTE OF CHRISTMAS

Spirit of fun is an essential at Christmastime. Within each individual there is sympathy and understanding between people. The play of ideas, words, and laughter are what count in lending a truly festive air to a happy Christmas at home.

Christmas is a time for families to be together. But it is a time, too,for the family to reach outside its walls to spread the Christmas spirit.

One way to spread the spirit of Christmas is to offer hospitality to a friend or acquaintance who would otherwise be alone. Perhaps you ask him to bring his gifts and open them with you—or you may ask him to dinner or afternoon tea. Some families are adopting a family in their own town or overseas. They send them food and gifts.

Search for opportunities where children can enter into the preparations for Christmas; sending of gifts and cards, decorating the house and tree, planning the Christmas dinner, preparing the dinner, playing Santa. When children share they have a more positive and active approach to one of the highlights in their lives.

Painful parting with Santa Claus does not come to children whose families have looked ahead and developed in their children philosophics and meanings that are deep and lasting.

Make your Christmas the kind that your children will want to tell their children about, and enjoy all over again through their eyes.

Twelve Families Suffer Fire Loss In Pittsburgh

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18.—(INS)—A glum Christmas today was the prospect for 12 Pittsburgh families who lost their homes and stacks of Christmas gifts during a a fire which caused $125,000 damages.

The blaze drove them from their apartments into sub freezing weather before they could save any possessions. It destroyed three-fourths of the double building in the East Liberty district yesterday.

Huge clouds of smoke and intense heat hampered firemen who think an explosion in the furnace started the fire.

(International) News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 18.—Title trouble is plaguing Lou Schor Productions, Inc., an organization new to the industry and about to go all out on its first film story.

The new company has plenty of money, a good story, a top director, big stars and a crackerjack unit performing in great shape. But that old bugaboo of the movie business—the box office title—is bothering them night and day.

Their first production deals with a young couple who realize that they must live with other people in order to have a future or to find complete happiness.

Such choice monickers as "Reach For Tomorrow," "The Marriage," "The Young and the Brave," "The Crime Against Doris Harmon," "No Tomorrow," "Bright Tomorrow," and "Roll Back the Night" have been considered but for one reason or another they have been rejected.

A few of the titles, the bigwigs decided, did not have "a lift". Some were discarded as being "too message-y".

Study Suggestions

The company is ready to study any suggestions. Title trouble has plagued the major studios for years, and even the paying public has been mixed up. RKO-Radio filmed "I Married a Communist" and then changed the title to "The Woman On Pier 13" in the midst of its play dates.

"The Underworld Story" became the new title for "The Whipped", "Ellen" became "The Second Woman". "Gun Crazy" was changed to "Deadly Is the Female". "The Numbers Racket" was exhibited as "Force Of Evil". "They Passed This Way" became "Four Faces West".

Need Vultures

Paramount is having its troubles with vultures. The studio is in the market for four trained ones. All the birds have to do is sit around and look hungry in the aftermath to the big Indian battle scenes in "Fort Savage".

There are specialists living near the studios who train mules, snakes, peacocks, elephants, ravens and blackbirds—but apparently there are no vultures in anybody's backyard in southern California.

MOST CHEST APPEAL

Seven hundred Hollywood studio secretaries voted Howard Keel, the singing star, as "the actor with the most virile chest appeal."

Runner-up to Keel was Stewart Granger, with Alan Ladd and Brian Donlevy tied for third place.

Soviet Protests On Rearming Germany

LONDON, Dec. 18.—(INS)—The Soviet government delivered a note to Great Britain today protesting rearmament of west Germany as a violation of the Potsdam agreement and the Anglo-Russian treaty of alliance and Friendship.

A similar protest has been made to Paris on the same grounds of the Franco-Soviet agreement.

NOTCH TIME

PITTSBURGH—(INS)—By the seemingly simple trick of putting a notch in either one or both edges of a standard drill, engineers are drilling through metal up to 10 times faster than possible before.

TO BUILD PLANT

AKRON, O., Dec. 18.—(INS)—The B. F. Goodrich company announced plans for the construction of a new $2,500,000 industrial rubber products plant near Marion, O.

The plant, which will be Goodrich's 12th Ohio unit, is expected to employ about 300 persons with an annual payroll of more than one million dollars.

Company officials said the structure will have 125,000 square feet of floor space.

ATOM MINDS

PITTSBURGH — (INS) — Steel atoms are given a "one-track mind at the Westinghouse research laboratories by special rolling and heat-treating that lines them up in one direction. This improves the steel's magnetism and makes for lighter, cheaper and more efficient electrical equipment.

LIGHT POWERHOUSE

BLOOMFIELD, N. J.—(INS)—A high power searchlight lamp developed by Westinghouse engineers can throw a beam bright enough to make possible the reading of a newspaper ten miles away on a clear night. Heart of the 10,000-watt mercury vapor lamp is a flaming one-half inch arc.

SERVING HORS d'OEUVRES

Question: When I serve hors d'oeuvres, should I give each guest a fork with which to eat it?

Answer: If hors d'oeuvre is served at the table, it should be eaten with a fork. If it is served in the living room with cocktails, it should be passed on a tray and eaten with the fingers.

Question: What type of wedding would be correct for a widower marrying maiden?

Answer: The wedding of a spinster is always the same in detail whether she marries a bachelor or a widower. The widower or divorcee should not give a bachelor dinner. But the bride may have an elaborate wedding, wearing the traditional bridal attire, with a long queue of bridesmaids, if that is her wish.

Question: In a few days, I am to go to a dinner dance. I plan to wear a dinner dress. Will it be correct for my escort to wear a dark business suit?

Answer: No. Inasmuch as you will wear dinner clothes, he must also.

Question: My fiance's sister will soon be married. He thinks, at the ceremony, I should sit with the family. Do you think this will be proper?

Answer: Yes, you may correctly sit beside your fiance.

Question: Who buys the bride's wedding ring? In the case of a double ring ceremony, who buys the man's ring?

Answer: The groom buys the bride's ring and when there is a double ceremony, the bride buys the groom's ring.

SHORTAGE OF FARM HELP

HARRISBURG, Dec. 18.—(INS)—A critical shortage of year-around farm help in Pennsylvania was noted today by the governor's farm labor advisory committee.

Uncertainty of the future national emergency led the council to postpone preparation of recommendations for uniformity in deferment of key farm workers from military service.

Chairman Miles Horst said the committee's function is to draw up suggestions to assist draft boards in handling deferments of skilled farm workers, particularly those on dairy farms where a scarcity of skilled personnel is acute.

Burlesque Queen Asks $50,000 In Suit

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Rose La Rose, a burlesque queen, wants $50,000 damages from a St. Louis movie theater because her privacy has been violated.

Miss La Rose said that the world theater caused her embarrassment with her public by advertising a moving picture to give the impression that she had the starring role, whereas her role in the picture is only a supporting one.

She filed the suit in St. Louis circuit court.

UNEMPLOYMENT INCREASE

HARRISBURG, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Unemployment rose sharply in Pennsylvania during the week ended December 8 to halt a rising trend, the State Unemployment Compensation bureau reported today.

Claims for jobless benefits for the week totaled 67,500, the bureau announced, compared to 52,500 the previous week.

The situation was believed temporary, officials said, with seasonal factors and shortages of materials responsible for most layoffs.

Americans consume more than 275 million gallons of ice cream annually.

how does it feel

NOT TO HEAR At Christmas?

Stop a moment and think how you would feel if you COULD NOT HEAR at this most happy of holidays. The peeling of the Bells proclaiming this wonderful time of the year. The laughter, the cheery Season Greeting, the devout worship that makes Christmas mean so much to everyone of us.

No, it wouldn't be a very Merry Christmas if you could not hear . . . the crackling of the Yule Log on the hearth, the lovable sounds that come from the children on Christmas morn, the Winter Wind whistling along, carrying the joyful songs of the Carolers, sounds that are very much a real part of Christmas.

Some loved one of yours may be faced with the thought of Christmas without the hearing they deserve. Make it a real Christmas for them—a HEARING Christmas. Put a warmer glow in their heart and yours. How would you feel if you could not hear at Christmas. Remember, the joy of the gift is in the giving.

Court House

Salary Hikes To Cost $15,000

Board Finishes Pay Adjustments

After a survey of the salaries of all departments of the court house the salary board has finished its wor kand the pay raises have been made.

As a general statement it might be said the raise was 10 per cent to all. Actually it didn't work this way, although it averages something like that.

All chief deputies were placed on a basis of $250 per month. Second deputies were scaled at $220. No increases were given to any appointed employe receiving $250 per month.

The payroll for the appointed personnel of the court house runs about $200,000 per year. This includes the institution and bridge departments.

Full Support To Government Pledged

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—(INS)—The American Glassware Association, a group of manufacturers, pledged full support to the government under the new state of emergency.

The association through its secretary, H. L. Dillingham, said:

"President Truman's declaration of a state of national emergency, while expected, does bring us face to face with the stern fact that we are next door to war.

"It is a condition every industry and every American dislikes to face, but you can rest assured that the American pressed and blown glassware industry, manufactruing all types of glass except building glass, food and beverage containers will give its loyal support to whatever program the government prescribes to successfully defend our country.

"The industry pledges that it will sacrifice that part of its production which normally goes for civilian use, when and if it is needed, to produce the many types of electronic glassware field implements of war, range finders and table and cooking ware required by the expanding armed forces."

Wire Brush Helps To Brighten Suede

To keep suede articles bright and attractive, use a wire brush—but first we suggest going over the surfaces with a cloth dipped in vinegar.

Another good brush-up can be done by rubbing a piece of stale rye bread over the suede. These are the only home methods we know about that are unlikely to leave streaks or discolorations.

British Youths Get New 'Ism'

BRISTOL, England—(I N S)—A new "ism" has crept into the lives of British youth — "inconsequentialism."

Headmaster J. P. Stewart of Fairfield Grammar School, of Bristol Gloucestershire, claims to have found it among his scholars. He said:

"I have a nice lot of new boys in my school. Censure them and they smile at you pleasantly, maintaining a disarming impenetrability. They are above logic. For them time merely exists. With them cause never produces effect.

"In short, they suffer from a most peculiar disease I call 'inconsequenialism.' They do not disobey deliberately. They do not just understand that any law applies to them."

Local Officers Attend Meeting

Mrs. Ida M. Suber, 409 Bell avenue, national president of the Service Star Legion, Inc., has returned home from McKeesport and Pittsburgh, where she officiated at the institution and installation of a new chapter of Service Star Legion at Eden park, McKeesport.

The event was on Tuesday, December 12, and Mrs. Bertha Blundo of Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania state president and former resident of this city, instituted the chapter. Mrs. Suber installed the officers. The affair was an outstanding event of the borough, taking place in the main pavilion in Renziehauser park. The address of welcome was given by Burgess Thomas J. Heatherington, who also presented an American flag to the group. Councilman John Considine presented the group with a gavel.

Patriotic organizations of McKeesport attended. On Tuesday afternoon a luncheon was held in honor of Mrs. Suber and Mrs. Blundo in the home of Mrs. Laura Thompson, McKeesport. Mrs. Marie Cothery of Glassport entertained with a dinner party on Wednesday.

On Thursday, Mrs. Suber attended a luncheon in the Sheraton hotel, Pittsburgh, followed by an executive state board meeting. Mrs. Bertha Blundo presided. While in McKeseport, Mrs. Suber was the houseguest of Mrs. Mary Weimer, 26th street.

BITE THIS

NEW YORK—(INS)—A Swedish dentist claims he has developed a mathematical formula for detecting a person's age by his teeth. Good Housekeeping magazine reports that his formula is based on the extent of wearing down as the result of chewing, the secondary tissue that has grown around the tooth, and the transparency of the root.

Driver's Crow's Feet May Become Extinct

TOLEDO, O. — (INS) — Drivers' crow's feet, a recreational disease" that mars the beauty of female motorists, soon may become extinct as a result of improvement of automobile windshields to reduce highway glare.

One foe of this glare that causes "squintitis" is a new windshield that has a soft, bluish-green tint It cuts more than 15 percent of the sun's infra red rays and yet transmits more than 70 percent of average daylight, said Dr. George B. Katkins, research director of the Libbey-Owens-Ford Glass company, which developed the new safety plate glass.

Women who have driven cars equipped with the new glass say there is much less tendency to squint than in old automobiles, according to Dr. Watkins. They also report their eyes feel less tired after a long drive.

"So a glass that was developed primarily for safety and comfort, also appears to be a boon to beauty," said Dr. Watkins.

Browns And Rams Will Settle Pro Grid Supremacy Next Sunday

Clevelanders Defeat Giants, 8-3; Los Angeles Trims Bears, 24-14

By JOHN BARRINGTON
I. N. S. Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 18.—It will be almost like homecoming week this Sunday when the Cleveland Browns meet the Los Angeles Rams for the National Football league championship at Cleveland's Municipal stadium.

Cleveland fans don't have to remember back when for their last championship team. The Browns took care of that for four years running when they made off with All-America conference crowns. Now in their first NFL season the men of Paul Brown are out to prove that their supremacy in pro football is all-embracing.

But before the Browns came the Rams. Back in 1945 the Rams ran their league franchinese under Cleveland's banner and in that year they won the championship.

Los Angeles is making its second attempt at the title in two years. Last year the Californians were beaten, 14-0, by the Philadelphia Eagles.

Rams Win 24-14

The Browns and Rams come into the big game by the narrowest of margins. Cleveland won an 8-3 playoff game from the New York Giants yesterday in near-freezing temperatures at Municipal stadium. The victory gave the Browns the American division title.

The Rams, playing before 83,501 fans in a 92-degree temperature at Los Angeles, downed the Chicago Bears, 24-14 in a playoff for the National division crown.

Sweet Revenge

Both teams could consider their wins sweet revenge. Twice in the regular season the Giants topped the Browns and the Bears took the Rams in their two regular meetings.

The Brown-Giants thriller, played in 17-degree temperatures over frozen turf, was won by Lou Groza's hot toe.

The 238-pound booting machine produced an 11-yard field goal in the first period and then with 58 seconds to go in the game he booted a 28-yard three-pointer what broke a 3-3 tie and averted a sudden death period.

Groza was aided by another Brown stalwart, peerless Otto Graham. It was Graham's passes that set up the first field goal and in the last period, after Randy Clay had deadlocked the game for the Giants with a 20-yard field goal, Otto became a running "bootlegger" to move the ball into position for the toe's second three-pointer.

With eight seconds to go Jim Martin caught Giant quarterback Chuck Conerly in the end zone for a safety but the issue already had been settled.

Stars in Los Angeles' triumph over the Bears were Bob Waterfield and his pass-catching pal from their UCLA days, end Tom Fears. Waterfield passed to Fears for all three Ram touchdowns.

The Ram quarterback put his team ahead in the closing minutes of the opening quarter when he kicked a 43-yard field goal.

Chicago went ahead in the second quarter on Al Campanas' 22-yard touchdown gallop.

Waterfield, who kicked all his team's extra points, then hit Fears with a payoff pitch. The play consumed 68-yards. Before the half ended the combination clicked again for a 27-yard scoring play and the Rams were never headed after that.

Pulaskis Hand Meadville Five 58 To 51 Defeat

The Ted Kolcz coached K. Pulaski "Big Five" hit the winning trail again at the K. Pulaski hall Sunday afternoon, edging out the Meadville, Pa., Merchants, 58-51, in a closely fought game. Coach Kolcz had his entire squad out for this important game.

The Pulaskis led at half time, 34-27, but faltered in the third period, scoring olny three field goals, compared to seven fielders which the Meadville quintet scored, therefore trailing the Meadville quintet 41-40 at the end of the third quarter.

The Meadville quintet had a fine, tall and aggressive ball team, the first staring "five" averaging 6.2 in height.

Nevotne Stars

Big Ed. Nevotne, who returned to the line-up, paced the Pulaskis with 14 markers, followed closely by Palmgren and Hamilton with 13 and 10 markers respectively.

Wednesday evening the Pulaskis will meet a local independent team, the Keystone A. C. quintet.

FAMED "DEMPSEY RIGHT CROSS"—Jack Dempsey (right), the Old Manassa Mauler himself, and Primo Carnera who was supposed to feature the wrestling show at The Garden in Boston, look more like they did in the days when each was heavyweight boxing champ of the world. Dempsey refereeing the wrestling bout warned Carnera to desist from his rough tactics. Not taking Dempsey's warning, caused Dempsey to start swinging at Carnera to break. Result, a small bout, broken up by Don Eagle, Carnera's wrestling opponent who went on to win the match.

Player Of The Week

John McKay—John McKay, New Castle high school substitute, has been selected as player of the week among Lawrence county high school basketball players for the past week for his play against Duquesne high school last Tuesday.

John played quite a bit during the regular game as a substittue for Anthony Vitale, who was forced to ride the bench because of four personal fouls. In the final quarter the fifth personal was called on Vitale and McKay took over.

With the game drawing to a close and New Castle trailing 44-42, John dribbled down the left side of the court, drove past two or three Duquesne players and laid in a shot to tie the game and send it into overtime.

In the first overtime period he put in a foul shot to tie the game up again after Duquesne had taken a one-point lead. In the sudden death second overtime period John put one through from way out to give the Red Hurricanes a 48-46 win.

John is the first high school player of the week to be selected by The News sports staff. The The Player of the Week award will be continued for the remainder of the basketball season and will be a regular Monday feature of The News.

There is no prize or monetary award for the selection, only the recognition of a player for a game or games well played.

North Lima Trips Bessemer, 57-47

Bessemer high school had a bad night at the foul line Saturday night on the Bessemer floor and lost a 57-47 decision to North Lima. The Cementers could make only seven out of 23 foul shots, while the visitors slipped in 19 out of 28.

In spite of the poor foul shooting, Bessemer led 26-25 at the end of the first half. The winners built up their lead in the third quarter by outscoring the Cementers 20-7.

Jim Gagliana and Phil DeArment paced the Cementers in scoring with 13 and 11 points respectively. In the preliminary game the Bessemer JV's whipped the North Lima Reserves 39-26, with Scott and Cunningham pacing the Bessemer scoring.

HERE and THERE IN SPORTS LAND

BUFFALO POLICE had to go to the aid of of the Great Togo, 220-pound Japanese wrestler in the Bison City Memorial stadium, Friday night. The Jap entangled Dizzy Davis of Alameda, Tex., in the ropes where the referee counted out the Texan. Infuriated fans among 7,000, took after Togo who leaped from the opposite side of the ring and fled to the mezzanine floor of the stadium. Police fought to his side and locked him in a dressing-room to prevent fans from doing him bodily harm. This recalls that on some occasions in The Arena, some fans have become infuriated at antics such as the Great Togo pulled, and other actions, such as kicking, gouging, fore-arming punches to the head, and other stunts which are not in wrestling's category. While they have not assailed any wrestlers here, they have thrown articles at them. Upon one occasion, a wrestler became vexed at the activities of a front-seater and, leaving the ring, took after the fan, who raced to safety. . . . An out-of-the-ordinary Tag match was staged in Chicago Wednesday night. It went the one hour limit without a fall. Ivan Rasputin and Dutch Howlett, known as Jungle Boy, were in the Tag. The Jungle Boy is one of the best actors in wrestling. In Here & There's opinion, he rates next to Mr. America, who is Gene Stenlee in private life. Mr. America is so sarcastic of an opponent's ability he appropriately may be termed "The Great Disdainer". Thad A. Bukowski has a story captioned "Legend at Lake Edinboro," in the December Pennsylvania Angler. It concerns fishing . . . Several years ago, Cecil Suber or Bill Carlin hooked a nice Muskie at Lake Edinoro . . . Prior to banging up the gloves, Joe Louis will fight Rex Layne who defeated Joe Walcott in New York, recently . . . Farrell Basketball Coach Eddie McCluskey, has a story, captioned "Drills and Play Patterns" in the December issue of Athletic Monthly".

—o—

J. G. PATTERSON, New Wilmington, writes: "I am enclosing a page from 'The Pathfinder,' December 13, issue, in regard to sewing seeds for wild life which I believe should be brought to the attention of Sportsmen's clubs. We have a cabin (Camp Lawrence) close to Tionesta and the Endeavor Lumber company has cut away all the large trees. There are ideal plots in which clover, rye and other seeds could be plated which would help the deer, rabbits and other animals. Another idea, would be for sportsmen to save grass clippings this summer and put them in bags and take them to the forests and place them on rocks, limbs and other high points so deer would get them when the snow is like it is at present. It is our intention to plant some clover in some of these plots." The article in The Pathfinder tells of Johnny Appleseed starting orchards in the wilderness of Ohio by planting apple seeds wherever he went. It says outdoorsmen can emulate this by planting grass seed. . . . Lou Brady ,erstwhile judge if boxing, now in electrical maintenance at a Farrell plant, is in circulation again after having been on the sick list.

—o—

JOHNNY MOCK, Outdoors Editor, Pittsburgh Press tells a story about "Silent" Johnny Loccisano, fistic manager of Ellwood City. The info' was given Johnny by Herman Fritz of Millvale (no relation to Here & There). Herman and his son, enroute bear hunting, were stranded in Mt. Jewett. A 'hunter' came along in a car and to whom Herman explained their predicament. The motorist advised the pair he was headed for Austin, and they accepted his invitation to go along. There was no room for them in the camp, so the hunter, who proved to be Johnny Loccisano gave them the privilege of sleeping in his auto. The next day all of them went hunting together. Fritz reports he got a buck and offered to share the meat but Loccisano and his friends said they did not want any, adding they were interested only in a trophy. The man says Johnny Loccisano hauled his son and the 250 pound bear to his home in Millvile. "Honestly, I didn't believe there were that kind of sportsmen left" after which he praised Loccisano to Mock. Johnny, unfortunately, lost an arm some years ago, but it does not prohibit him from hunting. As a fight manager, he was the best guardian a protege could have. Seldom did he ever over-match his fighter, and he always sought an edge on the other fellow in making a match.

Ed Halas Stars As Titans Top Carnegie Tech, 73-62

Paced by big Ed Halas, Westminster's Titans defeated Carnegie Tech 73-62 at Skibo gym Saturday after trailing by nine points at the half.

The victory was the fourth straight for the Westminster quintet who are undefeated in early season play. It was the Titans' 16th win in a row over the Tartans. In a prelim Westminster's Jayvees defeated the Tech frosh 49-46.

In the varsity contest the lead switched six times in the first half before Tech pulled away to a 39-30 halftime lead. The Tartans pulled ahead by 11 points early in the second half but then began to fade as Pat King, Titan center, tossed in three consecutive field goals to cut the lead to five points with six minutes gone in the period.

Halas Stars

King went out on fouls early in the period but the Titans were on the move. Johnny Abraham gave the Titans a 48-47 lead with 10 minutes left in the contest and from that point on the Westminster quintet moved steadily ahead, scoring 43 points in the final half while holding the Tartans to 23 points.

Halas was high scorer in the contest with 20 points, 17 of which were scored in the final half. Other Titan high scorers were King with 14 points, Jerry Sybert and Abraham with 12 each and Don Meyers with 10.

Ten-Day Layoff

Accuracy at the foul line aided the Titan cause in a contest that was marred by excessive personal fouls. The Blue and White made 19 points on free thows with a better than 80 per cent in foul shots attempted.

Saturday's game will be followed by a 10-day lull in activities because of the holiday season. The Titans' next foe will be undefeated Duquesne university at the Pittsburgh Gardens December 26.

The Cleveland Barons better hit the road and stay there if they want to cop the championship of the American Hockey League's western division.

Gil Mayer Fails To Set Record

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Gil Mayer, the Pittsburgh Hornets goalie who had a chance to break an 11-year-old American Hockey league record for scoreless play, said today he hopes opportunity knocks again—soon.

The 20-year-old Canadian admitted he had played the puck improperly last Saturday night and permitted the Providence Reds to zip through a score which ended his hope of breaking Nick Damore's record.

Five Minutes Short

The goal was scored at 12:56 of the first period—five minutes and two seconds before he would have reached Damore's scoreless play record of 221 minutes and two seconds.

Damore established the record during the 1939-40 season with the Hershey Bears.

What Mayer considered even worse, however, was that Providence went on to beat the Hornets, 3-2, in a sudden death overtime period.

Williams-Cruz Battle Tonight

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18. —(INS)—Lightweight boxing king Ike Williams faces a stern challenge tonight in an over-the-weight bout against Rudy Cruz, Purple Heart veteran from Los Angeles.

Promoter Herman Taylor has promised Cruz a title match with Williams if the California clouter wins tonight's battle at the Philadelphia arena.

Cruz attracted the attention of fistic experts when he defeated Williams stable mate, Arthur King, in 10 rounds last month. King is billed as the British lightweight champion.

Williams and Cruz have met once before. Ike won a split decision over Rudy at Oakland, Calif., in May, 1948.

Dukes To Meet South Carolina

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 18.—(INS)—A ranking among the nation's best is within the reach of Duquesne tonight if the unbeaten Dukes beat South Carolina in Pittsburgh.

Victors in four straight games, coach Dudey Moore's lads have surprised their followers and are favored to beat the Gamecocks and do the same tomorrow night against Wake Forest.

While the Red Wings fought the New York Rangers to a 3 to 3 deadlock, the Leafs were defeating the Boston Bruins, 4 to 2.

Three Toronto goals in the opening period and Cal Gardner's tally in the last stanza wrapped up the game for the league-leaders.

Red Wings Tie

The Red Wings kept their six-game winning streak alive as they came from behind to tie the last-plac Blueshirts.

Metro Prystai and Sid Abel notched the equalizers for Detroit.

The win moved the Canadiens to two points behind third place Chicago.

Connie Mack Defends Happy

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 18.—(INS)—Connie Mack is convinced today that Major League club-owners "made a terrible mistake" in firing baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler.

Mr. Mack said he is puzzled "why Chandler was fired." The retired manager of the Philadelphia Athletics added:

"He (Chandler) has done a great job as commissioner. He's done everything a man could ask of him. His accomplishments have been many.

"Frankly, I feel sorry for Chandler, but I still have hopes he will stay in as commissioner."

The A's voted at the clubowners meeting at St. Petersburg, Fla., to keep Chandler on the job.

Lakers Defeat Olympians, 79-60

(By International News Service)

The champion Minneapolis Lakers, now solidly entrenched in first place in the National Basketball Association's Western division, defeated the Indianapolis Olympians last night, 79 to 60. The Lakers increased their lead to two full games.

George Mikan scored 29 points to pace the Lakers to their third win in as many evenings.

The Boston Celtics clipped the Rochester Royals, 88 to 75, and moved to within a half-game of the Eastern Division leaders, the Philadelphia Warriors.

Other games last night saw Syracuse defeat New York, 95 to 86, and Tri-Cities beat Fort Wayne, 103 to 99.

Russ Christopher, 33-year-old former Athletics and Cleveland Indians pitcher, is recovering in Jefferson hospital from a major operation for a heart condition.

Looks as though the man they call "kindly old Burt Shorton" has every right to pick up his can of bait and fishing pole, and go on off fishing somewhere near Bartow, Fla., free from the cares of trying to manage a big league ball club.

LEGAL NOTICES

In the Court of Common Pleas of Lawrence County, Pennsylvania, No. 5 March Term 1951, M. D.

To Addison C. Dickinson, his heirs and assigns, and Katherine Walker Hay, her heirs and assigns: Take notice that on December 6, 1950, Ruth B. Morrow and Delmer W. Morrow, her husband filed their complaint averring that they are the owners of the following described real estate:

All those two (2) certain lots or parcels of land situate in the Second Ward, City of New Castle, Lawrence County, Penna., being Lot Nos. 347 and 348 in the Plan of Lots called Walton, as recorded in the Recorder's Office of Lawrence County in Plot Book Vol. 2, page 64, and also known and designated as Lots numbered 493 and 494 in Section 3 of the Official Survey of the City of New Castle, and bounded and described as follows:

Bounded on the north by Howe Alley; on the east by Lot No. 349 in said Plot; on the south by Edgewood Ave., and on the west by Warren Alley, fronting on Edgewood Avenue for a total distance of eighty (80) feet and extending back a distance of one hundred forty and twenty-seven hundredths (140.27) feet on the West line and one hundred forty-one and thirty-four hundredths (141.34) feet on the East line thereof to said Howe Alley on the north.

That you and your heirs are reputed to have a possible interest in said lands and by reason thereof, there is a cloud upon the title of the plaintiffs to said premises. That the plaintiffs have requested the court to decree that the title to said property is solely in the plaintiffs and that the defendants be forever barred from asserting any right, lien, title or interest therein, and that

Thereupon said Court ordered service by publication upon you, the said defendants, requiring you to appear in Court on the 15th day of January, 1951, at 9 o'clock A. M., at the Courthouse in New Castle, Penna., for hearing and to answer said complaint and for your failure to do so, a judgment in default thereof may be taken and entered against you.

THIS PEACEFUL SCENE is actually one of the world's most explosive spots: A small river in Tonkin between French Indo-China and Communist China, with connecting bridge. New York Stocks

Stock Market Records Gains

NEW YORK, Dec. 18—The stock market gained fractions to more than two points today in another turbulent session highlighted by a spectacular rush to buy "war baby" issues.

The heavy buying rush overwhelmed the reporting facilities of the stock exchange with the tape falling as much as six minutes behind at the end of the first hour. As a result, the exchange resorted to the use of "flash" transactions to inform traders as to the actual state of the market.

There were many delayed openings as floor specialists sought to obtain sufficient selling orders to balance the buying orders on hand. For example, American Wooeln opened at 10:45 on a block of 10,000 shares at 46½, a gain of 2½ points. This stock had risen four points on Saturday. Grumman was another late opener, with this aircraft issue opening at 10:36 on a block of 9,000 shares at 29¾, a gain of two points. This stock had risen 3⅞ points on Saturday.

The largest individual transaction was one of 22,000 shares in Packard, which was up ¼ at 4¼. Blocks of 15,000 shares and more were also recorded in New York Central, Curtiss Wright and Pacific Tin.

Although most pivotal leaders were fractionally higher, the motors were barely steady, reflecting the action of the government in rolling back prices to the December 1 level, thus cancelling the recent price boost.

Textiles, aircrafts and rails were the groups in the war-category most in demand.

Kaiser Frazer was a feature on the curb market, gaining ⅛ to 7⅛ on a block of 15,800 shares. Big board bonds were higher. Cotton jumped $3 a bale in commodities.
